

Freed U.S. Fliers Returned Red Fire

22 Victims Of Mine Disaster Are Recovered

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — The torn, seared bodies of 22 men were brought out of the Viking coal mine Friday victims of an explosion that wiped out the entire crew in a flash.

A U.S. Bureau of Mines notice supported miners' reports of gas seepage into the shaft, 265 feet deep.

A notice of an investigation, to start Saturday, announced a shut-down of the mine because of "imminent danger of recurrence of mine explosion from gas and/or dust."

Viking Coal Corp. clamped a no-comment order on rescue workers.

Miners reported small fires had flared up in the sloped shaft since it was opened about a week ago. The little fires, blamed on "green devil" gas seeping from an abandoned section, had been put out.

Wives and children had huddled near the shaft through a long night's death watch in a chilly damp off the Wabash River, just 200 yards away.

Moans and children's cries broke out each time a mine car clattered out of the shaft with another body in the dangerous 10-hour recovery operation.

Finally, when all were out, Birch Brooks, general manager of the mine, stood weeping in the warm sunshine. He told an assortment of newsmen, rescue workers, officials and relatives: "We have lost 22 good men. We don't know what caused the explosion, but we plan to begin an investigation to find out. The plant will be closed until the investigation is over."

"It was a horrible, horrible thing," said Coroner D. M. Ferguson, no stranger to mine accidents. "It appeared to be a heavy flash fire, a bombardment-type thing so intense and rapid they had no time to do anything."

"They fell where they were working," reported R. E. Hudson of Rosedale, a state mine inspector who helped bring out the bodies.

Only few tried

"Only a couple tried to crawl — two of them got maybe 15 or 20 feet."

The bodies were burned so badly that identifications had to be made by belt numbers.

The rescue teams groped into the dust-choked shaft, repairing ventilating brattices by the light of their helmet lamps as they went along to combat deadly fumes.

Hudson reported comparatively little debris. Mine cars were knocked off the track. The blast disabled a huge conveyor belt used to carry coal out of the mine to the nearby Wabash power plant of Public Service Co. of Indiana.

The explosion wasn't heard above ground and its exact time wasn't determined. Trouble was first suspected about 7:45 p.m. when an air pressure gauge on the surface dropped to zero and the crew failed to answer a telephone check.

Another crew of 22 was immediately ordered out of another section of the mine, and rescue workers started the long, cautious job of reaching the victims, three miles from the tipple.

Polaris 'Mother' Reaches Scotland

HOLY LOCH, Scotland (AP) — The mother ship of America's fleet of Polaris submarines sailed majestically past canoeing demonstrators Friday and berthed to a chorus of Highland cheers. Six English pacifists aboard the small boat wound up in jail.

With the arrival of the gray-painted tender Proteus, a unique Western base was established in the picturesque stretch of water off the River Clyde.

The $50-million vessel was maneuvered into her mooring place by three British naval tugs—and got down to business almost immediately. Her 980 officers and men began making hurried preparations for the arrival of the nuclear-powered submarine Patrick Henry, expected to sail in for servicing within the next few days.

"We've got work to do and I don't think many of us will be having shore leave immediately," said Capt. Richard B. Laning, skipper of the 18,500-ton Proteus. A few sailors got ashore for a little hospitality and a taste of the local throat wash.

The arrival of the tender, a topic of high excitement in Scotland for months past, was accomplished smoothly and with a minimum of fuss—except for the dunderheaded activities of the six English pacifists in three canoes and a rowboat.

All six young men wound up in the police station at nearby Dunoon, charged with "a breach of the peace" in trying to prevent the Proteus from berthing. Eight naval and police launches went into action off a beach where the demonstrators have been camping for weeks under painted signs saying: "No Polaris — Polaris spells doom."

The waterborne demonstration ended after a few hectic minutes with some pacifists soaked, others fairly dry and all six in custody. Crewmen watched silently from the decks of the Proteus.

One canoe, carrying ring-leaders Terry Chandler and Harry Smith, was rammed by a naval launch after being warned by loudspeakers to stay clear of the Proteus. Chandler, 29, and Smith, 27, were pitched into the water, and immediately began swimming toward the slow-moving tender.

Frogmen dived and dragged the pair to the launch, from which they were carried feet first to a patrol wagon and hauled off. After giving the shivering lads a hot meal and drying their clothes, police decided to free them pending a court appearance soon.

No Other Demonstrations

Polaris demonstrations as the Proteus glided to her mooring but a crowd of about 70 Highland folk assembled ashore and cheered raggedly as she completed her crossing from New London, Conn. The cheer was an accurate reflection of how most of the people in surrounding communities feel about the new base.

One Head Urged For M-Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department was told by the House Appropriations Committee Friday to put its missile base program under the direction of one person.

To end what it termed divided responsibility, the committee said there should be "a single head responsible directly to the chief of staff and the secretary of the Air Force."

Such action, the committee said following an investigation of the program, should reduce mismanagement, speed up work, eliminate red tape and remove a present threat to "the well-being of the entire system."

Delays costly in terms of both time and money, the committee said, have resulted from divided and duplicating responsibilities and from too many design changes. It said some of the changes may have been made to "cover mistakes in design that should never have been made."

The missile base construction program now is being handled by the Air Force and the Army's Corps of Engineers.

Senate Approval Given For 73 Federal Judges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Friday voted to authorize 73 new federal judges—the biggest single addition ever proposed in the federal judiciary.

"These are choice political plums," said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who led a losing Republican fight to delay action on the measure.

Dirksen told the Senate the initial cost of creating a new district judgeship, including expenses for the first year, is $90,000. The first year cost of adding a judge to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, he said, is $172,600.

The bill which the Senate approved by voice vote and sent to the House would set up 63 additional district judges in 32 states

Fighting Erupts Between U. N. And Congo Soldiers

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Fighting erupted Friday between United Nations Sudanese troops and Congolese soldiers in the port of Banana at the height of new U.N. efforts to end civil strife in the Congo.

At least one Congolese soldier was reported killed and fighting continued into the night despite orders from both the U.N. and Congolese army commands to cease firing. The Sudanese were using their new authority from the U.N. Security Council to open fire if necessary to maintain order.

With passions already running high against the United Nations in Leopoldville, it was a discouraging end to a day that saw the U.N. make two more approaches to the leftist rebels of Antoine Gizenga.

Rajeshwar Dayal, India's head of the U.N. Congo mission, sent another formal demand to rebel authorities in their capital of Stanleyville to cease all military movements outside their province — Oriental.

Gen. Sean McKewen, Irish head of U.N. military forces, flew to Stanleyville for talks with Gen. Victor Lundula, the rebel army commander. McKewen met last week with Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo's army commander, in an attempt to arrange a ceasefire.

State Park Killer Gets Life Term

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Chester (Rocky) Weger, accused of murdering the wives of three Chicago business executives in a state park, was convicted Friday, his 22nd birthday.

The jury set the penalty at life imprisonment.

The jury of seven women and five men had deliberated since Thursday afternoon, with time out for meals and rest.

Its verdict was confined to the killing of but one of the three women who had gone to Starved Rock State Park for a brief holiday. Still pending are indictments in the deaths of two other women.

Weger was convicted Friday for the murder of Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 30. She and two friends — Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50 — were found beaten to death in a shallow cave in one of the park's canyons. At the time, Weger was a dishwasher at the Starved Rock Lodge.

Weger could have been sent to the electric chair, as the state demanded, for the murder of Mrs. Oetting March 14, 1960.

The third alternative given the jury by Judge Leonard Hoffman in his instructions would have sent Weger to the penitentiary for a term fixed by the jury but for not less than 14 years.

Weger sat with hands folded in his lap, head ailt and face expressionless. Later he told newsmen, "I know I was framed. I want to appeal all the way."

The defense attorney, John A. McNamara made an immediate motion after the verdict for a stay of sentence which was accepted by the court, a time limit to be fixed later, McNamara said this was a routine move to guard his defendant's right to appeal.

Solons Okay Ike Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — In what one Democratic leader called a sign of national affection, the House and Senate Armed Services Committees Friday approved legislation to restore former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's five-star Army rank.

The House group acted first, and the Senate committee followed suit. Neither committee held hearings on the legislation, which was requested by President Kennedy.

Instead of the $20,543 Army pay of which $7,626 would be tax-free, Eisenhower would receive the fully taxable $25,000 annual pension provided for former presidents. He also would receive the $50,000 allowance for office and staff to which ex-presidents are entitled.

Say Our Plane Not In Red Area

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Air Force Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead and John R. McKone said Friday their RB47 reconnaissance bomber returned the fire of a single attacking Soviet fighter before their plane was shot down in flames over the Barents Sea last July 1.

They denied emphatically that their plane ever had flown over Soviet territory and Capt. McKone said their craft was at least 50 nautical miles off the coast.

McKone, 28, the navigator, from Tonganoxie, Kan., and Olmstead, 25, copilot, from Elmira, N.Y., faced some 100 newsmen in the Forbes Air Force Base servicemen's club and told their story publicly for the first time since their release from a Soviet prison Jan. 25.

Olmstead and McKone are the only known survivors of the six-man crew of the RB47. Maj. Wilford G. Palm, 39, Oak Ridge, Tenn., the commander, was killed and his body returned to the United States by the Russians.

The other three members of the crew, who are listed as missing and presumed dead, were Maj. Eugene E. Posa, 23, Visalia, Calif.; Lt. Dean B. Phillips, 25, Sacramento, Calif.; and Lt. Oscar L. Goforth, 26, Sardis, Okla.

Dramatic Story

They told a dramatic story of cold, privation, solitary confinement during most of their seven months in custody, and endless interrogations by Soviet officials. They said they refused to sign statements saying they had been ordered to cross the Soviet border.

The two fliers said they had no knowledge of the fate of their missing mates.

Friday was the first public disclosure that the American plane fired back at the Soviet attacker.

Olmstead said he saw three parachutes including the one carrying McKone, and McKone said he saw two, including Olmstead's. In addition, the two captains indicated that one of the parachutes probably was that of Maj. Palm.

The two men gave generally responsive answers and seldom had to grope for words in the news conference that lasted a little over an hour.

However, they gave only sketchy details of the fateful mission. There were no answers, or only partial answers, as to the exact nature of the RB47's mission so near the Soviet Union, why the Russians released them suddenly after holding them for about seven months, and why they never have given specific details of their interrogation and treatment while in prison.

Russians Contend

The Russians had contended that the reconnaissance plane, converted from a B47 jet bomber for surveillance work, violated Soviet air space, and they have tried to link the July 1, 1960, incident with that of the U-2 spy plane, which had penetrated far into Soviet territory.

McKone and Olmstead said in a written statement Friday the aircraft was flying parallel to the Soviet border but under questioning would give no other clues as to the flight plan or the nature of the mission.

One newsmen noted that previous reports had mentioned the RB47 as an "unarmed plane" and he asked how the craft was able to return fire.

"The aircraft, as such, was not armed with an offensive weapon of any sort," Olmstead said. "We carried two 20mm automatic cannons which were anti-mounted, pointing to the rear. This was a defensive weapon purely to protect us from attack from the rear of the aircraft."

Olmstead said he personally fired the remote control cannon, and a newsmen asked if he hit anything.

"This all happened so very rapidly that I actually do not know what happened after I returned the fire," he replied.

JFK Asked For Quick Tax Refunds

Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was asked Friday to direct the Internal Revenue Service to release federal income tax refunds immediately to families in areas of high unemployment.

In a letter to Kennedy, Rep. William A. Barrett, D-Pa., said the refunds would increase spending and stimulate business.

To expedite the refunds, Barrett suggested that IRS abandon its pre-refund audits for persons living such areas.

"The examination of these 1960 returns can be made after refunds are issued to our needy citizens, if necessary," Barrett said.

Barrett said that in the Philadelphia region alone approximately 100,000 refunds were selected for examination last year. He said that after examination 40 per cent of these refund remained unchanged and taxpayers received the amount claimed.

"Hundreds of citizens waited several months before receiving their money," Barrett said.

He said it is anticipated IRS in Philadelphia this year will examine some 250,000 returns, "which will vitally affect those people in the low income bracket whose principal income is from wages earned."

In all nine IRS districts, Barrett said, some two million persons will have a long wait before receiving their returns.

This money could be put into immediate circulation and alleviate the economic plight in Philadelphia and other distressed areas," he said.

Tribesmen Shoot Down Soviet Plane

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Mao tribesmen shot down a Soviet transport plane taking part in a massive munitions airlift to leftist Pathet Lao rebels last month, the government said Friday.

Information Minister Bouavann Norasing told newsmen the plane crashed Feb. 17 near Ban Na Thong, about 100 miles north of Vientiane. It was the first plane reported shot down by anti-Pathet Lao forces.

The Mao tribesmen, who consistently have resisted rebel soldiers, learned neither the nationality of the crewmen nor their fate, Bouavann said.

He charged Russians and Communist North Vietnamese are flying and trucking troops and huge quantities of munitions across the Laos-North Viet Nam border.

Soviet planes make five or six supply trips daily into rebel territory, he said, and convoys of Soviet trucks carry arms across the border.

Munitions Buildup

Western newsmen who recently visited the rebel stronghold of Xieng Khouang reported seeing a munitions buildup under way and said North Vietnamese and Soviet trucks were involved.

Bouavann predicted government soldiers shortly will defeat a rebel force that threatened to slice across Laos, separating the northern royal capital of Luang Prabang from Vientiane in the south. He said government forces recaptured the strategic road junction town of Tha Vieng and its valuable airstrip on Feb. 25. The rebels took the town in mid-January, preventing government soldiers from attacking north along its good road toward Xieng Khouang.

The Vientiane government still wants a reconciliation with the rebels, he said, and is willing to form an enlarged government with ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma the bridge between the opposing sides.

Former GOP Boss, Joseph Grundy, Dies

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Joseph R. Grundy, former Republican senator from Pennsylvania who gave his name to a conservative brand of politics called "Grundyism," died in Nassau Friday at the age of 98.

The news of his death was first announced in Philadelphia by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association, an organization born of his own political and economic convictions.

It was later confirmed by a source at Jacaranda House, owned by Lady Eunice Oakes, where Grundy had been staying. He had been ill several weeks. The source said he died at Jacaranda House at 3:30 p.m., and that the body would be sent to Pennsylvania Saturday.

The source said he knew of no other details. Lady Eunice was not available.

Grundy's home was in Bristol, Bucks County, Pa., where he owned woolen mills. He was a bachelor.

Grundy retired from the hurly-burly of the national political scene in 1947, giving up one of his most cherished offices—that of president of the PMA, which he espoused many years ago.

Although Grundy's stay in the senate was short—his was an interim appointment—he became widely known as a lobbyist for high tariff and low taxes, and a free-swinging supporter of conservative Republicans.

Grundy was so devoted to the principle of high tariff, low taxes that he once told a friend it was second only to religion in his life. Certainly he spoke out for it at every opportunity—in the state legislature, in Congress, at nation at political conventions, in speeches to businessmen and industrialists.

Political Vocabulary
Thus it was the term "Grundyism" came into the nation's political vocabulary as a synonym for what the more liberal element labeled Old Guard Republican reasoning.

Grundy also had a special knack of raising money for political campaigns, and in presidential election years leaders looked to him to fill Pennsylvania's quota for the party's war chest.

Lenten Meditation

And He (Jesus) said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto Thee, take away this cup from Me; nevertheless not what I will, but what Thou wilt. (St. Mark 14:36)

We must note two things in particular in the text, First, "All things are possible with God." Secondly, God's will must be done. Though our Saviour's heart was very heavy still He said, as He did earlier in the Lord's Prayer, "Thy will be done." The Son's will was always in perfect submission to His Father's. As Paul said in Hebrews 5:8, "Though He were a Son, yet learned He obedience by the things which He suffered."

If then Christ must be obedient to the Heavenly Father's will how much more should we be obedient. We could say, "Let us be obedient to God's will throughout Lent." Should we not say, "Lord Thy will be done," always.

When will we be able to say, "O Father I know that all things are possible to Thee almighty power. Teach me to endure human suffering and to submit my

Senate Approval Given For 73 Federal Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Friday voted to authorize 73 new federal judges—the biggest single addition ever proposed in the federal judiciary.

"These are choice political plums," said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who led a losing Republican fight to delay action on the measure.

Dirksen told the Senate the in-tial cost of creating a new district judgeship, including expenses for the first year, is $90,000. The first year cost of adding a judge to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, he said, is $72,600.

The bill which the Senate approved by voice vote and sent to the House would set up 63 additional district judges in 32 states and Puerto Rico, and would provide for 10 additional circuit court judges.

Cost of $6,396,000

On the basis of Dirksen's figures, that would add up to an initial cost of $6,396,000. Dirksen said the annual cost would drop somewhat after the first year.

Federal judges receive a minimum of $22,500 a year and collect full-pay retirement benefits. They are appointed by the president, with approval of the Senate. The U. S. Judicial Conference composed of senior circuit court and district judges, has called for 54 additional judges to help handle congested dockets.

President Kennedy asked for 60 new judges and included the request in his list of 16 most urgently needed bills. The President's figure was raised to 69 by the committee bill provided for 60 district judges and 9 circuit court judges.

The Senate, in two days of debate, upped the figure to 73—63 district and 10 circuit judges. "We were picking plums off this juicy plum tree so fast," Dirksen remarked at one point, "that we almost forced one judge on a committeeman who did not want him."

Dirksen, the Republican floor leader, moved vainly to put off action until March 16, when the U. S. Judicial Conference would have held its March meeting and made its latest recommendations. The Senate defeated Dirksen's motion on a standing vote and went on to pass the bill.

The two men gave generally responsive answers and seldom had to grope for words in the news conference that lasted a little over an hour.

However, they gave only sketchy details of the fateful mission. There were no answers, or only partial answers, as to the exact nature of the RB47's mission so near the Soviet Union, why the Russians released them suddenly after holding them for about seven months, and why they never have given specific details of their interrogation and treatment while in prison.

Russians Contend

The Russians had contended that the reconnaissance plane, converted from a B47 jet bomber for surveillance work, violated Soviet air space, and they have tried to link the July 1, 1960, incident with that of the U-2 spy plane, which had penetrated far into Soviet territory.

McKone and Olmstead said in a written statement Friday the aircraft was flying parallel to the Soviet border but under questioning would give no other clues as to the flight plan or the nature of the mission.

One newsmen noted that previous reports had mentioned the RB47 as an "unarmed plane" and he asked how the craft was able to return fire.

"The aircraft, as such, was not armed with an offensive weapon of any sort," Olmstead said. "We carried two 20mm. automatic cannons which were off-mounted, pointing to the rear. This was a defensive weapon purely to protect us from attack from the rear of the aircraft."

Olmstead said he personally fired the remote control cannon, and a newsmen asked if he hit anything.

"This all happened so very rapidly that I actually do not know what happened after I returned the fire," he replied.

A New Commandment

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buscher

Scripture—John 13.

"Now before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that His hour was come that He should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved His own in the world, He loved them unto the end."—John 13:1.

"And supper being ended . . . He riseth from supper, and laid aside His garments; and took a towel, and girded Himself . . . poureth water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet."—John 13:2-5.

Jesus then became troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray Me. Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake."—John 13:21-34.

One of them asked Him, "Lord, who is it?" Jesus said, "He it is to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it." He gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.—John 13:25-26, GOLDEN TEXT—John 13:34.

Special Music Listed For Easter Sunday

SPECIAL music for the annual Easter Dawn service of the St. John's Lutheran Church, Bartonsville, will be furnished by the Monroe County Youth for Christ, a spokesman for the church said last night.

The service will be held on the property of Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, midway between Snyder and Bartonsville, on Route 12.

The Youth for Christ group will be under the direction of Robert Bullock, local Youth for Christ director.

Only wise men and hungry children fully appreciate their blessings!

Many of God's gifts, like the air we breathe, are received without thought. Others, like the abundance of the harvest, we think about only in season. Still others, like our religious heritage, get varying degrees of attention and response according to our spiritual perception . . . or the precariousness of our plight.

This isn't Christmas . . . or Easter. And we hope it is not a time of personal crisis for you and your family . . .

If it's just a normal week, full of the routine of life—then it's an ideal time to remember your blessings. And Sunday will be an ideal day to begin, renew or strengthen that wholesome habit of worshipping God in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Record Of Service

For nearly three decades, this congressional district has had the distinction and good fortune of being represented in Washington by the capable and influential Francis E. Walter, of Easton.

He has been a conscientious servant of the people throughout his long tenure. Although elected as a Democrat, Congressman Walter chose from the beginning to place his district and his country above partisan politics. His reelection to office for 15 consecutive terms is ample evidence that he has served well.

It is with a great deal of regret, therefore, to read of Mr. Walter's decision to retire from Congress at the close of his present term. Now 63, he suffers from a respiratory ailment that causes him considerable distress in the hot and humid Washington climate.

He plans to establish a home at some location high in the Poconos where the dry climate will afford him the relief he must have. He has not yet found the right place and will welcome any suggestions.

Mr. Walter is beloved by his constituents for the many things—both large and small—that he has done for the 15th Congressional District. That is only part of the story, however, for his accomplishments go much deeper.

As a militant foe of Communism and a friend of refugees fleeing oppression abroad, Mr. Walter's fame has spread to all parts of America and to distant points in the free world.

The respect which his colleagues hold for him was demonstrated vividly this week on the floor of the House of Representatives. Mr. Walter had sought a $331,000 appropriation to carry on the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities when he was challenged by Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., an ardent foe of the committee.

Instead of yielding to his adversary, Mr. Walter discarded his prepared speech and launched into a vigorous defense of his committee's continuing efforts to unmask Communism for what it really is. He also charged Mr. Roosevelt apparently did not share the view that Communism was evil and un-American.

The House responded with loud bursts of applause and a standing ovation rivaling any ever witnessed in that hallowed hall. The result was a resounding 412-6 vote favoring Mr. Walter. The victory—in effect a vote of confidence in the much-maligned committee—was described as the greatest in the Easton lawmaker's 28-year career in Washington.

America needs more men of Mr. Walter's caliber and wisdom to plot and fight the nation's home-front battle for greater security against the Communist enemy.

We hope that his decision to retire is not irrevocable. Because he is a public servant dedicated to duty to his country, we believe that Mr. Walter could be persuaded to change his mind if there were a decided improvement in his health within the next year or so.

Whatever his final decision, may he find relief from his ailment and live for many more years to enjoy the blessings he so richly deserves for serving mankind so well.

High Percentages

From two judges come statements about the influence of alcohol in the American social order which startle us.

Judge A. A. Dawson, of Canton, Tex., told a southern audience: "If the drinking of intoxicating liquors were to cease, two-thirds of our courts could be abolished and 85 per cent of law enforcement costs would be saved."

About the same time, Judge Matthew

W. Hill, of the Supreme Court of Washington, told Pacific Coast welfare workers: "Two-thirds of our divorces and half of our major crimes have the use of intoxicants as a contributing factor, and frequently it is the dominant factor."

These statements indicate we're paying a fancy price for our indulgence.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Referendum And Recall

This is a representative republic, controlled by a written Constitution and by Acts of Congress as interpreted by the Supreme Court. By a representative republic is meant a government chosen by the people at elections for specific terms of office and with limited responsibility.

Under the American Constitution, these limitations are stated in very general terms, but as the economic and political life of the country has grown increasingly complex, laws have had to be passed which in 1787 would not have been thought necessary and the Constitution has been modified to meet these new conditions.

This particularly applies to matters of inter-state commerce, of public welfare and of the general defense.

When Theodore Roosevelt and Robert La Follette favored the Referendum and Recall, they were regarded as wild radicals. Today, both these ideas are recommended by men and women who regard themselves as conservatives.

They agitate for direct action against the Congress, the Court and other government officials with whose views and actions they disagree. This would be the Referendum and Recall. It would bring us closer to a democracy than to a republic.

The principal conservative publication is the "National Review," the circulation of which increases although it does not receive much advertising from business firms.

This weekly publication has gathered together a group of brilliant writers, mindful of the "New Republic" in the days of Walter Lippmann and Herbert Croly. Russell Kirk in Chicago, edits a quarterly, the "University Bookman," which is conservative and intellectual.

In addition to these publications are numerous pamphlets, newsletters, opinion circulators of every type of thought, some of which need to be taken seriously by the student of politics and social conditions, and others, of course, must be pushed aside because they represent blatant opportunism.

But even the latter are interesting because one wonders where the support comes from. The "hate" sheets are particularly shocking and the question is who puts up the money for untruthful statements and misrepresentations.

Yet, even such publications give evidence of depth of discontent and discouragement, not among the economically unfortunate, but among all classes, particularly the professionals, physicians, dentists, lawyers.

Such movements are usually not reported because they really do not make news unless they coalesce and nominate someone for the Presidency, as the Hillman faction of the labor movement built up the personality of Fiorello La Guardia or as the Left Wing of the New Deal came into power during Franklin D. Roosevelt's second term.

It is difficult to report a silence or resentment or an irritation. Yet out of such emotions come all popular responses to government.

Conservatives are so varied in their ideas and their intensity that they have produced no national leader, such as Robert A. Taft was. Senator Barry Goldwater is a rallying point.

Politically, conservatism cannot be limited to Republicans, since the center of such thinking is undoubtedly in the South, and in this country a political grouping must be around a party and a new political party can only come into existence with an affirmative program.

Measles, Needles

Like unreliable copistrans swallows, measles comes back every second or third spring.

Parents still go on thinking measles is simply a red, blotchy rash—until their own children are caught in the wave of the epidemic.

For days before the rash, the sweatily feverish measles victim is troubled by a hacking cough, stuffy nose and red, runny eyes. The rash serves as a blotchy distress signal, announcing that the two sickest days are about to start.

On the first day of the rash the child is so sick he's afraid he's going to die. On the second day, he's so sick he's afraid he's NOT going to die. And on the third day, he's suddenly healthy again. The rash starts to fade and only complications can prolong the illness.

No Longer Impregnable For centuries, measles seemed an impregnable fortress. But a few years back, doctors stormed the fortress and cracked its defense wide open with gamma globulin derived from blood plasma.

Today, gamma globulin is pooled from hundreds of adults and is loaded with measles antibodies. An injection of this gamma globulin before measles begins can protect you and yours.

Does Vary Small shots may "modify" the measles and make it milder; larger doses may completely prevent the illness. But once the cold symptoms start, the GG is powerless to help the measles victim.

Preventive doses are reserved for the very young, the sick or the weak. Doctors prefer to give everyone else modifying doses. The mild measles after these shots still produces a permanent immunity, and when the GG wears off after six weeks the child is still immune. Just how strong the immunity is remains a question.

Often Unpredictable Gamma globulin is often unpredictable. Severe measles with complications may develop in spite of modifying doses. Modifying doses may prevent the illness completely while preventive doses sometimes only modify. Many "prevented" cases actually represent rash-free measles without symptoms; laboratory tests have proven this.

Symptomless rash-free measles after gamma globulin gives the child some mild, but permanent, immunity. When he catches measles later on—even though he gets no fresh shot of GG—he winds up with mild measles.

Partial Immunity Even with a rash, modified measles may give only partial immunity the first time around. When the child catches measles again, the second bout will be mild and possibly rash-free. Of course measles doesn't strike every child during an epidemic; some are left to catch the full-blown misery next time.

If you and yours haven't had measles and are exposed to someone coming down with it, ask your doctor about gamma globulin needles. The sooner, the better.

Q. I will be 73 years old next month. I work as a machinist and earn about $2300 a year. I have never applied for social security benefits. My union delegate told me I could receive social security checks and still work because I am more than 72. I strongly disagreed with him. Would you settle this argument?

A. Your delegate is right. According to the social security law, you can receive benefits starting with your 72nd birthday, no matter how much you earn. However, benefits are not paid automatically; you should file an application at your social security office immediately.

Q. I am a seasonal worker and will be 72 years old in March. My season starts in May and I do not work at all the first four months of the year. My total earnings for the year will be more than $1200. Will I lose any social security benefits next year?

A. No. Under the social security law, no matter how much you earn in a year, you will receive a check for any month you earn wages of $100 or less. In addition, you can receive benefits starting with your 72nd birthday, regardless of how much you earn. Since your work will begin after you are 72, you will receive all benefits for the year.

Q. I will be 72 years old next June and earn $200 a month. My grocer tells me that since I will be 72 next year, I can receive all my social security benefits, regardless of how much I earn. Is this correct?

A. You can receive social security benefits beginning with June, your 72nd birthday. However, your earnings for the entire year will be included in determining whether benefits can be paid for any months before you became 72. Since your total earnings for the year will be $2400, you will not receive checks for the first five months of the year.

McNamara Rushes In

Washington — Defense Secretary McNamara either is a man of exceptional audacity or he just doesn't care how long he holds his job. In charge of spending more than half the stupendous $80 billion-plus federal budget.

For the second time in the little-more-than-a-month the former Ford executive has been in office, he is literally rushing in "where angels fear to tread."

To the goggle-eyed amazement of Pentagon insiders, McNamara is taking soundings on a hyper-explosive idea of merging the missile and space activities of all the military services, totaling some $2 billion annually, under one authority the Air Force.

That would mean giving the Air Force control of the Navy's proudly successful 500-mile solid-fuel Polaris, and the Army's still-developing Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile.

To the Army and Navy and their flabbergasted congressional champions, McNamara's ambitious proposal is like waving a red flag at an enraged bull.

Already one backstage investigation has been set in motion. Representative Carl Vinson (D., Ga.), veteran chairman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, is determined "to get at the bottom of this, and find out who and what's behind it."

"The POLARIS program will never be put under the Air Force as long as I'm around," adds Vinson, long and justly renowned as the "father" of the modern Navy. A member of Congress since November 1911, he is outranked only by Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., who started in March 1913.

Now Hear This — Vinson and other congressional leaders got wind of McNamara's "revolutionary" plan informally.

It was leaked to them. McNamara had sent copies of it to the Joint Chiefs of Staff for their comments. Not long thereafter, other copies found their way to Capitol Hill where they had "bombed" McNamara.

When Vinson learned of the matter, he immediately phoned McNamara for an explanation.

The Defense Secretary gave emphatic assurances nothing would be done without first consulting Vinson and his key committee. Said McNamara, "I wouldn't think of doing otherwise."

"I'm glad to hear you say that," replied Vinson drily, "because it would be most unwise not to do so."

Significantly indicative of the Army's attitude was the view expressed by Lieutenant General Arthur Trudeau, Chief of its Research and Development. Questioned by congressional leaders about merging all space exploration under one service, he replied:

"Space is so vast that there is room for all the services to explore the innumerable problems confronting us."

McNamara's first explosive episode occurred two weeks after he took office.

A so-called background briefing for a small group of hand-picked newsmen resulted in widely-published stories that refuted Democratic campaign of a dangerous missile gap. Both the President and McNamara had to issue statements to "clarify" this blunder.

Apparently in an effort to avoid such gaffs, McNamara is reviving the "truth squad" of his predecessor.

As instituted by former Defense Secretary Thomas Gates, this "squad" consisted of two officers each from the Army and Air Force, and one from the Navy and Marines. It was headed by retired Marine Brigadier General Donald Hittle.

Purpose of the group was to advise the Defense Secretary on how to avert public controversies, and to provide answers for "critical" letters and statements.

Gates credited the "truth squad" with enabling him to keep from making a "single major mistake. My relations with Congress and the press improved 100 percent after this group was established. It was one of the best things I did."

The "squad" was disbanded after the November election. In restoring it, McNamara named Lieutenant Colonel Charles L. Chair as the new chairman.

More Dollar Savings — The U.S. Army in Europe is "advising" its personnel to sharply reduce the number of domestic servants in the drive to cut down the outflow of gold.

Studies disclosed such servants are costing between $50 and $60 million a year.

More than 100,000 domestics are employed by military families in West Germany, England, France and Italy, at an average monthly pay of $30. Most of the servants are cooks and maids, with a sprinkling of chauffeurs and even a few butlers and valets.

General Bruce Clarke, commander in Europe, personally "advised" the cutdown on domestic help.

Social Whirl — A long-held belief has been shattered by Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke, new State Department protocol chief. Asked if he wasn't "terribly busy," Duke replied pleasantly, "Not really. I know this is supposed to be a very hectic job, but it's every well organized and none of us are overworked. Matter of fact, if we were, it would be conclusive evidence of bad organization."

While the First Lady has resumed horseback riding at the Virginia retreat, the Second Lady, Little Caroline Kennedy, has turned to another form of high riding — swinging. After carefully examining the traces on the stable, she selected one and told her nurse, "That's the place for my swing." And that's where it is, to Caroline's squealing delight.

For nearly three decades, this congressional district has had the distinction and good fortune of being represented in Washington by the capable and influential Francis E. Walter, of Easton.

He has been a conscientious servant of the people throughout his long tenure. Although elected as a Democrat, Congressman Walter chose from the beginning to place his district and his country above partisan politics. His reelection to office for 15 consecutive terms is ample evidence that he has served well.

It is with a great deal of regret, therefore, to read of Mr. Walter's decision to retire from Congress at the close of his present term. Now 66, he suffers from a respiratory ailment that causes him considerable distress in the hot and humid Washington climate.

He plans to establish a home at some location high in the Poconos where the dry climate will afford him the relief he must have. He has not yet found the right place and will welcome any suggestions.

Mr. Walter is beloved by his constituents for the many things—both large and small—that he has done for the 15th Congressional District. That is only part of the story, however, for his accomplishments go much deeper.

As a militant foe of Communism and a friend of refugees fleeing oppression abroad, Mr. Walter's fame has spread to all parts of America and to distant points in the free world.

The respect which his colleagues hold for him was demonstrated vividly this week on the floor of the House of Representatives. Mr. Walter had sought a $331,000 appropriation to carry on the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities when he was challenged by Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., an ardent foe of the committee.

Instead of yielding to his adversary, Mr. Walter discarded his prepared speech and launched into a vigorous defense of his committee's continuing efforts to unmask Communism for what it really is. He also charged Mr. Roosevelt apparently did not share the view that Communism was evil and un-American.

The House responded with loud bursts of applause and a standing ovation rivaling any ever witnessed in that hallowed hall. The result was a resounding 412-6 vote favoring Mr. Walter. The victory—in effect, a vote of confidence in the much-maligned committee—was described as the greatest in the Easton lawmaker's 28-year career in Washington.

America needs more men of Mr. Walter's caliber and wisdom to plot and fight the nation's home-front battle for greater security against the Communist enemy.

We hope that his decision to retire is not irrevocable. Because he is a public servant dedicated to duty to his country, we believe that Mr. Walter could be persuaded to change his mind if there were a decided improvement in his health within the next year or so.

Whatever his final decision, may he find relief from his ailment and live for many more years to enjoy the blessings he so richly deserves for serving mankind so well.

From two judges come statements about the influence of alcohol in the American social order which startle us.

Judge A. A. Dawson, of Canton, Tex., told a southern audience: "If the drinking of intoxicating liquors were to cease, two-thirds of our courts could be abolished and 85 per cent of law enforcement costs would be saved."

About the same time, Judge Matthew

W. Hill, of the Supreme Court of Washington, told Pacific Coast welfare workers: "Two-thirds of our divorces and half of our major crimes have the use of intoxicants as a contributing factor, and frequently it is the dominant factor."

These statements indicate we're paying a fancy price for our indulgence.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Referendum And Recall

This is a representative republic, controlled by a written Constitution and by Acts of Congress as interpreted by the Supreme Court. By a representative republic I mean a government chosen by the people at elections for specific terms of office and with limited responsibility.

Under the American Constitution, these limitations are stated in very general terms, but as the economic and political life of the country has grown increasingly complex, laws have had to be passed which in 1787 would not have been thought necessary and the Constitution has been modified to meet these new conditions.

This particularly applies to matters of inter-state commerce, of public welfare and of the general defense.

When Theodore Roosevelt and Robert La Follette favored the Referendum and Recall, they were regarded as wild radicals. Today, both these ideas are recommended by men and women who regard themselves as conservatives.

They agitate for direct action against the Congress, the Court and other government officials with whose views and actions they disagree. This would be the Referendum and Recall. It would bring us closer to a democracy than to a republic.

The dissatisfaction with the Court arises from the "Communist decisions" and from the Brown Decision which dealt with the question of segregation. The principal objection to many of the recent decisions of the court is that they are, in reality, acts of legislation, the Court assuming a function to which it is not designated. One of my correspondents writes:

"But we cannot lie down and die, as the men in Korea had to do, while we are betrayed by our own government. If there are men in our judiciary, government, education, etc., and in industry, betraying us, it is our duty to expose them and get rid of them before they succeed in destroying our country. These are sound like platitudes—that's how platitudes are born."

This is a profound emotional response to a grave sense of injustice. There is too great a tendency to call everything crackpot which is not currently fashionable. The fact is that over the country groups are organizing themselves in opposition to what they regard as a negation of the American philosophy of government.

There are, for instance, about 100 conservative clubs on campuses and the number is increasing. "Young Americans for Freedom" is an exciting youth body, outspokenly conservative.

"The John Birch Society" consists of adults, organized all over the country, to advocate special causes such as the impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren. They publish a magazine, "American Opinion."

The principal conservative publication is the "National Review," the circulation of which increases although it does not receive much advertising from business firms.

This weekly publication has gathered together a group of brilliant writers, mindful of the "New Republic" in the days of Walter Lippmann and Herbert Croly. Russell Kirk in Chicago, edits a quarterly, the "University Bookman," which is conservative and intellectual.

In addition to these publications are numerous pamphlets, newsletters, opinion circulators of every type of thought, some of which need to be taken seriously by the student of politics and social conditions, and others, of course, must be pushed aside because they represent blatant opportunism.

But even the latter are interesting because one wonders where the support comes from. The "hate" sheets are particularly shocking and the question is who puts up the money for untruthful statements and miserable distortions.

Yet, even such publications give evidence of depth of discontent and discouragement, not among the economically unfortunate, but among all classes, particularly the professionals, physicians, dentists, lawyers.

The Defense Secretary gave emphatic assurances nothing would be done without first consulting Vinson and his key committee. Said McNamara, "I wouldn't think of doing otherwise."

"I'm glad to hear you say that," replied Vinson drily, "because it would be most unwise not to do so."

Significantly indicative of the Army's attitude was the view expressed by Lieutenant General Arthur Trudeau, Chief of its Research and Development.

Questioned by congressional leaders about merging all space exploration under one service, he replied:

"Space is so vast that there is room for all the services to exploration the innumerable problems

confronting us."

McNamara's first explosive episode occurred two weeks after he took office.

A so-called background briefing for a small group of hand-

-picked newsmen resulted in widely-publicized stories that refuted Democratic campaign of a dangerous missile gap. Both the President and McNamara had to issue statements to "clarify"

this blunder.

Apparently in an effort to avoid such gaffs, McNamara is reviving the "truth squad" of his predecessor.

As instituted by former Defense Secretary Thomas Gates,

this "squad" consisted of two officers each from the Army and

Air Force, and one from the Navy and Marines. It was headed by retired Marine Brigadier General Donald Hittle.

Purpose of the group was to advise the Defense Secretary on how to avert public controversies, and to provide answers for "critical" letters and statements.

Gates credited the "truth squad" with enabling him to keep from making a "single major mistake. My relations with Congress and the press improved 100 percent after this group was established. It was one of the best things I did."

The "squad" was disbanded after the November election. In restoring it, McNamara named

Lieutenant Colonel Charles Le

Clair as the new chairman.

More Dollar Savings — The

U.S. Army in Europe is "advising" its personnel to sharply re-

Delaware Water Gap 4th Graders Oppose Language On Television

By BOBBY WESTBROOK
Delaware Water Gap—These little Davids are ready to take on not just one but two Goliaths. There are 11 fourth grade pupils in the Delaware Water Gap school and all of them have joined in a crusade to take both the American and National Broadcasting Companies to task.

On their banner is "Better Grammar" and their weapons are letters, not slingshots, but they are firm in their faith that television, particularly its cowboys, will mend their ways, forthwith.

In fourth grade, grammar becomes a conscious and serious matter, and in "Water Gap" the contrast between the way their heroes on television talked and the way they were taught in school was not only confusing but irritating to the new converts to purity of language. Their elders may complain about television grammar, too, especially deliberate errors in commercials using "like" in place of "as" and "good" for "well," but they don't do anything about it. Fourth graders, however, have more faith that right will triumph.

It was their own idea that they write to the television stations expressing their views. The results are highly interesting. Mark Williams was the most vocal about it all. His letter was to ABC but will serve as a sample.

"The ABC programs use more incorrect language. I am nine years old and I don't use incorrect language. The little boys and girls will use this language. When I was little I used this language, too. My mother and teachers broke me of it. I don't want this to happen to the boys and girls because their mothers might not correct them. I am sure you don't want this to happen. Please try to improve the programs for the boys and girls, not just for me. Thank you."

Welfare At Heart
Ricky John Sutton also has the welfare of the younger children at heart when he writes to ABC:

"On many television programs, the people use incorrect words. For example: 'I ain't got none,' etc. If this keeps up many of the younger children will use these words. I am 9 years old and I don't use this kind of language myself."

So does Michael Siproth: "The ABC station has shows on television that do not use good English. Will you please try to improve this? The children of tomorrow will talk like that too. Thank you very much."

Other children take a more personal approach, coupled with a grim reminder that they can stop watching:

Patricia Ann Werkheiser writes: "I am disappointed in the language they use on TV. I am sorry I can not watch TV without someone saying an incorrect word. Will you please stop it? Thank you."

Doris Widdows writes: "I can't stand to hear a person use the word 'ain't' and to use double negatives on TV shows. I think it would sound better if they use the correct words and not double negatives."

James Singer says: "I would like it very much if the cowboys on TV would use the right grammar and not swear. I am nine years old and I don't like to listen to cowboys on TV if they are going to swear and not use the right grammar."

Roxanne Kaiser butters them up a bit first: "Many shows I like, but please do not use incorrect words like 'this here,' 'I done' and 'ain't.' I am nine years old. I would like to watch TV if you would talk better."

Others specify what the children are specific about the shows using bad grammar.

Nelson Nash asks: "Will you improve the language on television. Otherwise boys and girls will use that language. Here are (sic) one of the names of the television program, 'The Outlaws.' There are others also."

Joan Smith begins: "I have a few things to tell you. On 'The Outlaws,' a man said 'I ain't going.' I don't like their language at all. I would like to know if you will try to improve the language? The fourth graders don't even use that language."

Carol Reisenwitz adds: "I would like to make a complaint about some shows like 'Wagon Train' on Channel 3 on Wednesday night. They say 'ain't' and double negatives."

James Anthony Jr. chides them: "I think you can improve the language on your television shows. If you don't, more people will be using the language they hear on your programs like double negatives, etc."

If their campaign is successful, a new commandment may be added to the code of the Old West: Thou shalt not use double negatives.

Reassessment

Notices Mailed

REASSESSMENT notices to 1,600 owners of property through which streams flow are currently being mailed by the office of George K. Brands, Monroe County chief assessor.

A spokesman for Brands' office said yesterday that when the J. L. Jacobs Co. made its original reassessment, it only assessed streams on private land, such as fishing clubs.

In at least one case, a large club started a court action, protesting its assessment, but withdrew the action after a consultation among club lawyers, Brands and other county officials.

The spokesman said the original assessment was made only on what he called major streams.

Width, Distance
The new assessments are based on width of stream and the distance it travels through the assessed property. Approximately 26 public and private streams plus tributaries are now assessed, divided into four categories, based on width.

Brands' office said that as a result of the study and action, it now felt an equitable and non-discriminatory set of assessment values for streams from smallest to largest have been created.

Brands said assessments can be substantiated.

7 Arrested In Theft Of Beer

RONALD F. Kresge, 18, of Bartonsville, and six East Stroudsburg juveniles were arrested yesterday by State police, Stroudsburg barracks, and charged with the theft of six cases of beer from the home of Mrs. Anna Rohls, Bartonsville.

Kresge was committed to the Monroe County Jail and the six juveniles, ages 16 and 17, were released in the custody of their parents, pending a hearing in Juvenile Court.

The investigation leading to the arrest of Kresge and the six East Stroudsburg youths was started by East Stroudsburg Police.

Kresge was arraigned yesterday before Justice of the Peace Ruth E. Miller, Stroud Township, and is being held without bail for a preliminary hearing.

Fire Rips N.Y. Governor's Home

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York's turreted old governor's mansion, from which Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller fled minutes ahead of a racing fire, was a burned-out hulk Friday and there was some doubt it ever would house another New York governor.

The Rockefellers, hastily clad, crawled through a window of their second-floor living quarters early Friday onto the roof of a breakfast room, then down a fireman's ladder.

The fire destroyed an irreplaceable collection of paintings left in the mansion by former Gov. W. Averell Harriman and extensively damaged a collection of modern art that belonged to Rockefeller.

Inmate Is Charged In Jail Fire

RAYMOND M. Harrison, 34, of 551 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, waived a preliminary hearing yesterday before Justice of the Peace Ruth E. Miller, Stroud Township, on a charge of arson. He was committed to the Monroe County Jail to be held for court action.

Monroe County Sheriff Jacob F. Altomose called in Sgt. Donald Unger, Pennsylvania State Police Fire Marshall, to conduct an investigation on the fire in Monroe County Jail.

Sgt. Unger said that Harrison admitted that he had stuffed toilet tissue in an opening in the ceiling of his cell and set it afire.

Harrison is in the jail waiting sentencing on a charge of sodomy.

Provisional Head Proposed

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has proposed that Algerian rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas head a provisional coalition government in Algeria while French soldiers withdraw from the territory, reliable informants said Friday.

French President Charles de Gaulle and rebel leaders reacted favorably to the idea during detailed talks with Bourguiba, who rapidly is gaining stature as a go-between in negotiations to end the long Algerian rebellion, the sources said.

At Arosa, Switzerland, where Bourguiba is vacationing, a high Tunisian source said "We do not know if the President has made such a proposal but we think it is very doubtful."

The fire destroyed an irreplaceable collection of paintings left in the mansion by former Gov. W. Averell Harriman and extensively damaged a collection of modern art that belonged to Rockefeller.

Inmate Is Charged In Jail Fire

RAYMOND M. Harrison, 34, of 551 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, waived a preliminary hearing yesterday before Justice of the Peace Ruth E. Miller, Stroud Township, on a charge of arson. He was committed to the Monroe County Jail to be held for court action.

Monroe County Sheriff Jacob F. Altomero called in Sgt. Donald Unger, Pennsylvania State Police Fire Marshall, to conduct an investigation on the fire in Monroe County Jail.

Sgt. Unger said that Harrison admitted that he had stuffed toilet tissue in an opening in the ceiling of his cell and set it afire.

Harrison is in the jail waiting sentencing on a charge of sodomy.

Provisional Head Proposed

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has proposed that Algerian rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas head a provisional coalition government in Algeria while French soldiers withdraw from the territory, reliable informants said Friday.

French President Charles de Gaulle and rebel leaders reacted favorably to the idea during detailed talks with Bourguiba, who rapidly is gaining stature as a go-between in negotiations to end the long Algerian rebellion, the sources said.

At Arosa, Switzerland, where Bourguiba is vacationing, a high Tunisian source said "We do not know if the President has made such a proposal but we think it is very doubtful."

Why Fool Yourself!
When You Build YOUR HOME
It's the total FINISHED COST That Counts!

You may see claims that you can build a home for half the price you would normally pay . . . but read the fine print and see what you do not get. Then see what work you must do which may take months or years. Now figure out the total cost and see what you are really paying for THAT CHEAPER HOME. Your best bet in building a new home is a reliable home town builder . . . he builds to please you.

Depot Head Still Waiting On Decatur Closing Data

COL. LESTER W. Kale, commanding officer at Tobyhanna Signal Depot, is not sure what kind or how many new employees may be hired at Tobyhanna as the result of the gradual closing out of the Decatur, Ill., Signal Depot.

"The closing out of Decatur is scheduled to take 15 months", says Colonel Kale. "Because of the Decatur closing out, Tobyhanna's mission area will increase by three states, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia. This means Tobyhanna will supply Signal equipment to all Army troops in these three additional states."

"The work load in our present territory is decreasing somewhat," said Colonel Kale, "and for this reason we should be able to absorb the additional work with few additional employees. Any new jobs here, created by the Decatur closing, must be offered to Decatur people before local hires can be made. It will be several months before we really know what the total impact will be."

Colonel Kale added, "We already have a list of more than 2000 eligible and qualified local men seeking unskilled positions and almost as many seeking skilled jobs. I hope we will be able to hire some of them."

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

When I read the report of the "kidnap meeting" I had to call, Thelma Field to be sure it meant what I thought it meant. And it did. They thought they had a good program, so each member was instructed to "kidnap" a friend as a guest—and it worked.

I'm a strong believer in do-it-yourself promotion. Press and radio can do the ground-work—and put people in a receptive mood but if you want to sell a ticket, get money for a charity, increase your membership, improve attendance at meetings, recruit workers—you've got to do it yourself.

Nothing in this world is as effective as a personal invitation. Machines work by push buttons — people respond to people.

And I'm hoping that the big television companies are still "people" enough to respond to those little fourth graders who have set out to reform the world—or anyway educate the cowboys. Maybe the writers could fix it so that in addition wearing white hats the "cowboys" could also speak impeccable English, and only the "landladies" would say ain't and use double negatives.

Then hard-pressed teachers could say: "See, they didn't learn their fourth grade grammar and look how they turned out." Although the poor, humble character with a heart of gold might have a hard time proving it to lynx-eyed fourth graders waiting to pounce on his first "I done the best I could."

There's nothing wrong with the hearts, either, and before you're too sure that they won't accomplish anything, just tell me how many letters you've written lately, either to praise or condemn.

"Then I'll do it myself," said the Little Red Hen, "was always a favorite quotation of mine."

Fire Co. Aux. Contributes To The Red Cross

Saylorsburg—The Ladies Aux. of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co. made a donation of $10 to the Red Cross at their meeting in the fire house at Saylorsburg.

The group planned to hold its March 22 meeting at the P&L Service Center in Stroudsburg when a demonstration will be given and refreshments will be served. Members will meet at the firehouse at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Grant Knowles presided at the meeting which opened with devotion by Mrs. Anna M. Serfas, chaplain. Margaret Albright played for the singing. Mrs. Villet Melksell, financial secretary, reported 223 members.

Games and refreshments marked the social hour with Mrs. Claude Eckley, Mrs. Katie Jones and Mrs. John McCabe as hostesses.

At the April 25 meeting, Mrs. McCabe, Miss Edith Albright and Miss Margaret Albright will be hostesses.

Fellowship Focuses Program On The Cross

Newfoundland—Ronald and James Carlton, Promised Land, and Fred Kersey, Greentown, had charge of the meeting of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship held at South Sterling Methodist Church this week.

The three presented a program, "Facing Death on the Cross," which began with the reading of the 23rd Psalm by Jane Ellen Carr. The program included the story of the Passover, the Last Supper and the Crucifixion. Miss Carr then read the 128th Psalm.

The group sang several hymns, with the Rev. Arthur B. Campney at the piano.

Present were John Hazelton, Ronald and James Carlton, Fred Kersey, Terry Steph, Jane Ellen Carr, Elaine Peah, Shirley Smith, Mary Lou Nolan, Bliss Arnerberg, Margie Gearhart, Connie Ketter, Mrs. Anna Hazelton, Mrs. Martha Smith, the Rev. Larry Lindemuth and Rev. Mr. Campney.

The March 5 meeting of the MRF will be at the Moravian Church with the program, "Christianity and Government," presented by Jerry McLean, Donna Bartleson and Kathleen Croft.

ONLY WAF on campus, and in the reserve group, Sgt. Rose Marie Dekona, confers with Capt. Sumner F. Bossler, Stroudsburg, Group Personnel officer.

County Boasts Only WAF In New Air Force Reserve

Monroe County can claim the honor of having the only WAF in the newly organized 838th Air Force Reserve Recovery Group with headquarters at the Wyoming Valley Air Force Reserve Center.

She is Sgt. Rose Marie Dekona, a senior at East Stroudsburg State College, and the only WAF on the college campus.

Sgt. Dekona, an administrative clerk in the group, served in the Air Force from 1954 to 1957. Upon discharge, she joined the Air Force Reserve Flight in Stroudsburg and has since been active in the Reserve program.

Sgt. Dekona is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dekona, Lykens, and was graduated from Wilkeson High School. She is currently student teaching in East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

Talent Show At Pleasant Valley

A Talent Show, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Assn. of the Chestnut Hill Elementary School will be held in the new Pleasant Valley High School auditorium on Friday, March 17, at 8 p.m. There will be $50 worth of prizes awarded.

Anyone wishing to compete may call Mrs. Grace Thompson at Chestnut Hill Elementary School in Broadheads, or Mrs. John McGarvey at Pleasant Valley High School in Broadheads.

George Gilbert of WARM, Scranton, will be master of ceremonies, and the program will include 20 acts competing for prizes, and some surprise attractions.

Proceeds will be used to send the sixth grade of Chestnut Hill School on a historical tour of Philadelphia.

Monroe Council Represented At Washington Fete

The local Sons and Daughters of Liberty were represented at the celebration of the birthday of George Washington with a banquet entertainment and dance at McCallisters in Philadelphia.

Katharine Knox, state associate councilor, of East Stroudsburg was among the state and national officers present for the party when Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Maryland and Virginia were represented.

Also attending from Monroe Council were Elsie Counterman, national representative; Esther Carson of the state law and appeal committee, and Ruth Warrick.

The organization is a patriotic and fraternal group. Among its principles are: to maintain and preserve the sacredness of the American Sabbath Day; to maintain, preserve and protect the public school system of the United States; to labor for the reading of the Bible in every public school and to keep the American flag displayed.

They advocate compulsory education and liberty of worship.

Fashions For Men To Be Featured, Too

Members of the Temple Israel Sisterhood are busy selling tickets for their "Fashions and Ballads" show to be held March 15, at 8 p.m. at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, with the big drive on selling to men as well as women.

Fashions for men as well as women will be featured. The entertainment, too, is geared for both sexes with the Chorallers of East Stroudsburg High School to sing and Richard Matlock to present the music for the fashions himself.

After his graduation from the local high school, Matlock studied at the Bethlehem Conservatory of Music. He is organist and choirmaster at Christ Episcopal Church in Stroudsburg, has his own studio, and has entertained in hotels and clubs both here and in New Jersey.

The tickets are available from all members of the Sisterhood as well as Herb's His and Her Shop, David's Kiddie Shop, Herman's Shoe Salon and Koster's Store.

Fire Co. Aux. Dinner Set For April 22

Bushkill — The annual dinner sponsored by the Ladies' Aux. of the Bushkill Volunteer Fire Co. will be held April 22, it was announced at the meeting held this week at the firehouse. A special meeting will be called to distribute tickets and complete final plans.

Mrs. R. Ivan Michaels presided at the meeting attended by 14 members with Mrs. Alfred Arnt and Mrs. Richard Dickson as new members.

New dishes have arrived and other needed supplies will be added to the firehouse kitchen. Members were asked to remember to work for the booth for fancy work and baked goods at the July carnival, a project approved by the fire company.

Mrs. Arthur Myers and Mrs. Lawrence Dickson served refreshments.

Carol Weiss Capped At Temple

Academic honor mention went with nurse's cap presented to Carol Ruth Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Weiss, RD 1, Stroudsburg at the "capping" ceremony at Temple University Hospital.

The occasion marked the end of the initial six months of pre-clinical training for Carol and 91 classmates in their three-year nursing course.

The traditional Florence Nightingale ceremonies was followed by a talk by Dr. Fred B. Rogers, professor of preventive medicine and epidemiology, on "Reverence for Life."

A tea for the students, their relatives and friends was held at the Nurses' Home following the capping exercises.

"Kidnaped" Guests Swell Attendance at Meeting

Tannersville—A successful "kidnaping" was featured by the United Lutheran Women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church this week. Each member was asked to "kidnap" a guest for the special program.

Janice Marie Pope

Janice Pope Engaged To R. G. Pittman

Mrs. Ellen Pope of 89 Henry St., East Stroudsburg, announces the engagement of her daughter, Janice Marie, to Ronald G. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tweedie of RD 1 East Stroudsburg.

Miss Pope, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, is employed at Vassar Bag, Inc., Stroudsburg.

Mr. Pittman who attended Stroudsburg High School served four years in the Navy. He is employed at Pocono Shoe Factory, Stroudsburg.

Hadassah Gives for Israel Supplies

"Dollars For Supplies" were presented by members of the local Hadassah at their meeting this week. Mrs. Seymour Ellsweig explained that the funds are used to purchase hospital linens, layettes, uniforms and other materials in Israel for Hadassah installations, and for medical equipment, drugs, teaching materials and other items for its hospitals and schools.

Members not present for the meeting may send their contributions to Mrs. Morris Jacobson, president, or bring it to the next meeting.

Mrs. Jack Weltzman presented an American Affairs report, quoting Sen. Kenneth E. Keating's recent request to President Kennedy to initiate immediate steps to end Arab-Israeli tensions by working out a settlement which would recognize Israel's existence and geographic boundaries and would also offer full assistance in the rehabilitation and settlement of Arab refugees within Arab countries.

A membership plan was presented by Mrs. Leo Feinsilber, membership chairman, who enrolled five new members this year. Mrs. Feinsilber welcomed Mrs. Arlene Jolley as a new member and announced that Mrs. Zelma Silverman had become a life member of Hadassah.

The annual Donor Dinner will be held April 13 at David Duke's with husbands invited. Mrs. David Bernbaum and Mrs. Leon Koster are dinner chairmen.

Mrs. Al Goldstein announced that a local observance of World Jewish Child's Day will be held Sunday afternoon, March 19 in the Temple vestry when a special movie will be shown and refreshments will be served. All children are invited.

Mrs. Harry Heller, with the assistance of Mrs. Edgar Lieber, presented magic sets. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sol Katz, Mrs. Harry Lewenstein and Mrs. Jerry Rubin.

The next business meeting will be held March 27 at 7 p.m.

It worked. With a total membership of 54, the group rounded up 35 members and 20 visitors plus the pastor, for the program, which was on the theme "Hong Kong" arranged by Shirley Curth, assisted by Esther Pechatka, Helen Pechatka, Marion Pechatka and Caryl Nidlund.

A note of local interest was the fact that Rev. and Mrs. Charles Reinbrecht, friends of Rev. and Mrs. Edward Horn, who have visited them here as missionaries in Hong Kong and appeared in several of the colored slides shown in conjunction with the program. Mrs. Reinbrecht is a native of Souderton.

They opened a chapel, a school and a seminary from which 107 men have been sent out as pastors in Formosa, Malaya and Hong Kong.

The program emphasized the fact that the city has the largest refugee population of anywhere in the world. Although only five per cent of the population is Christian, 28 active Christian organizations there number 9,000 members. Lutheran World Relief has set up clinics, and distributes clothing and food along with medical care.

Laura Horn was narrator for the slides and Clyde Curtis operated the projector. Closing devotions were led by Nita Morris and Mary Wertheimer.

At the business meeting with Betty Rowe presiding, Viola Learn, reporting for the Christian Service Committee, announced that the Ladies Aid Society of the church will pay for materials used in the Dorcas clothing project. A Lutheran World Relief Clothing Drive will be held April 2 to April 16 with a goal of 200,000 pounds of clothing to be sent to South Jordan.

Plans were made for the third anniversary of the society to be celebrated on Sunday morning, March 5.

Members were asked to save spoils, detergent tops, old nylon stockings, used commemorative stamps and coupons for the society.

Climax of the meeting was the presentation of life memberships and pins to Betty Rowe, president, and Sally Newhart, treasurer.

Mrs. Newhart, Evelyn Dodd and Betty Warner served refreshments.

Mrs. Van Why 93 Today

Mrs. Clara Van Why of 724 Monroe St., Stroudsburg, will celebrate her 93rd birthday today. She lives alone and takes care of her own home.

However, she won't spend her birthday alone since a niece, Miss Sally Singer, has arranged a party in her honor. Her brother-in-law, Peter Williams, who will be 87 today, will share birthday honors. Other guests will include Mrs. Albert Kresge and her children.

Sand Hill Church To Appear On Special Plates

Bushkill — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Sand Hill Methodist Church have ordered plates decorated with a picture of the church for sale.

The members are meeting every Wednesday at the church to sew for the annual bazaar in the summer. Everyone is invited to bring a sandwich and spend the day with the group.

Present for the monthly business meeting were Mrs. Amy Seese, Mrs. Arlene Dippie, Mrs. Josie Howey, Mrs. Fanny Howey, Mrs. Edna Predmore, Mrs. Addie Gauslaes, Mrs. Edith Overfield, Mrs. Rosetta Halterman, Mrs. Josephine Messier.

The next business meeting will be held March 27 at 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Over have returned to their home, 219 South Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, after a winter spent in Columbia, S. C., and in Florida.

The Wyckoff Shopper

AB Wyckoff
STRONDSBURG, PA.

Of all the places I have lived, Schenectady, N.Y., was one of my favorites. I particularly admired the people there, and made friends for whom I become very lonely at times. That's why I was overjoyed to walk into my office of a recent morning and find a contribution of baby clothes packed in boxes from two of Schenectady's leading stores—the Wallace Company and the Imperial. There was a note too, signed Lynne Saxton, saying she was sorry to have missed me as she had looked forward to seeing me.

Now I'm wondering if she is a Schenectadian, and if I knew her there some 10 or 12 years ago. Perhaps I'll go back sometime—but that might be painful too. Things have a way of changing, and even though changes are often for the better, they shatter memories . . . something one doesn't wish to do when the memories are pleasant just as they are.

A few moments ago, I had a visitor—Mrs. Lydia Deibert of Gilbert, who brought a clipping from the Stroudsburg Record written goodness-knows-how-long-ago by Miss Anna M. Wyckoff, and illustrated with her photograph taken at the time she was the first clerk in the Wyckoff store.

And I'm hoping that the big television companies are still "people" enough to respond to those little fourth graders who have set out to reform the world—or anyway educate the cowboys. Maybe the writers could fix it so that in addition wearing white hats the "goodies" could also speak impeccable English, and only the "baddies" would say ain't and use double negatives.

Then hard-pressed teachers could say: "See, they didn't learn their fourth grade grammar and look how they turned out." Although the poor, humble character with a heart of gold might have a hard time proving it to lynx-eyed fourth graders waiting to pounce on his first "I done the best I could."

There's nothing wrong with the hearts, either, and before you're too sure that they won't accomplish anything, just tell me how many letters you've written lately, either to praise or condemn.

"Then I'll do it myself," said the Little Red Hen, "I was always a favorite quotation of mine."

Fire Co. Aux. Contributes To The Red Cross

Saylorsburg—The Ladies Aux. of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co. made a donation of $10 to the Red Cross at their meeting in the fire house at Saylorsburg.

The group planned to hold its March 28 meeting at the PPAK Service Center in Stroudsburg when a demonstration will be given and refreshments will be served. Members will meet at the firehouse at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Grant Knowles presided at the meeting which opened with devotions by Mrs. Anna M. Serfass, chaplain. Margaret Albright played for the singing. Mrs. Villet Melxell, financial secretary, reported 223 members.

Games and refreshments marked the social hour with Mrs. Claude Eckley, Mrs. Katie Jones and Mrs. John McCabe as hostesses.

At the April 25 meeting, Mrs. McCabe, Miss Edith Albright and Miss Margaret Albright will be hostesses.

Fellowship Focuses Program On The Cross

Newfoundland — Ronald and James Carlton, Promised Land, and Fred Kersey, Greentown, had charge of the meeting of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship held at the United Methodist Church this week.

The three presented a program, "Facing Death on the Cross," which began with the reading of the 23rd Psalm by Jane Ellen Carr. The program included the story of the Passover, the Last Supper and the Crucifixion. Miss Carr then read the 128th Psalm.

The group sang several hymns, with the Rev. Arthur B. Campney at the piano.

Present were John Hazelton, Ronald and James Carlton, Fred Kersey, Terry Staph, Jane Ellen Carr, Elaine Peet, Shirley Smith, Mary Lou Nolan, Bliss Arneberg, Margie Gearhart, Connie Keiter, Mrs. Anna Hazelton, Mrs. Linda Smith, the Rev. Larry Lindemuth and Rev. Mr. Campney.

The March 5 meeting of the MYF will be at the Moravian Church with the program, "Christianity and Government" presented by Jerry McLain, Donna Bartleson and Kathleen Croft.

Music Boosters Mon.

Tannersville — Music Boosters of Pocono Twp. High School will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the school library.

ONLY WAF on campus, and in the reserve group, Sgt. Rose Marie Dekena, confers with Capt. Sumner F. Bossler, Stroudsburg, Group Personnel officer.

County Boasts Only WAF In New Air Force Reserve

Monroe County can claim the honor of having the only WAF in the newly organized 869th Air Force Reserve Recovery Group with headquarters at the Wyoming Valley Air Force Reserve Center.

She is Sgt. Rose Marie Dekena, a senior at East Stroudsburg State College, and the only WAF on the college campus.

Sgt. Dekena, an administrative clerk in the group, served in the Air Force from 1954 to 1957. Upon discharge, she joined the Air Force Reserve Flight in Stroudsburg and has since been active in the Reserve program.

Sgt. Dekena is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dekena, Lykens, and was graduated from Wilconico High School. She is currently student teaching in East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

Talent Show At Pleasant Valley

A Talent Show, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Assn. of the Chestnuthill Elementary School will be held in the new Pleasant Valley High School auditorium on Friday, March 17, at 8 p.m. There will be $50 worth of prizes awarded.

Anyone wishing to compete may call Mrs. Grace Thompson at Chestnuthill Elementary School in Brodheads-ville, or Mrs. John McGarvey at Pleasant Valley High School in Brodheads-ville.

George Gilbert of WARM, Scranton, will be master of ceremonies, and the program will include 20 acts competing for prizes, and some surprise attractions.

Proceeds will be used to send the sixth grade of Chestnuthill School on a historical tour of Philadelphia.

Monroe Council Represented At Washington Fete

The local Sons and Daughters of Liberty were represented at the celebration of the birthday of George Washington with a banquet entertainment and dance at McCallisters in Philadelphia with more than 200 attending.

Katharine Knox, state associate councilor, of East Stroudsburg was among the state and national officers present for the party when Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Maryland and Virginia were represented.

Also attending from Monroe Council were Elsie Counterman, national representative; Esther Carson of the state law and appeal committee, and Ruth Warwick.

The organization is a patriotic and fraternal group. Among its principles are: to maintain and preserve the sacredness of the American Sabbath Day; to maintain, preserve and protect the public school system of the United States; to labor for the reading of the Bible in every public school and to keep the American flag displayed.

They advocate compulsory education and liberty of worship.

Fashions For Men To Be Featured, Too

Members of the Temple Israel Sisterhood are busy selling tickets for their "Fashions and Ballads" show to be held March 15, at 8 p.m. at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, with the big drive on selling to men as well as women.

Fashions for men as well as women will be featured. The entertainment, too, is geared for both sexes with the Choralists of East Stroudsburg High School to sing and Richard Matlock to present the music for the fashions himself.

After his graduation from the local high school, Matlock studied at the Bethlehem Conservatory of Music. He is organist and choirmaster at Christ Episcopal Church in Stroudsburg, has his own studio, and has entertained in hotels and clubs both here and in New Jersey.

The tickets are available from all members of the Sisterhood as well as Herb's His and Her Shop, David's Kiddy Shop, Herman's Shoe Salon and Koster's Store.

Fire Co. Aux. Dinner Set For April 22

Bushkill — The annual dinner sponsored by the Ladies' Aux. of the Bushkill Volunteer Fire Co. will be held April 22, it was announced at the meeting held this week at the firehouse. A special meeting will be called to distribute tickets and complete final plans.

Mrs. R. Ivan Michaels presided at the meeting attended by 14 members with Mrs. Alfred Arnt and Mrs. Richard Dickson as new members.

New dishes have arrived and additional supplies will be added to the firehouse kitchen. Members were asked to remember to work for the booth for fancy work and baked goods at the July carnival, a project approved by the fire company.

Mrs. Arthur Myers and Mrs. Lawrence Dickson served refreshments.

Carol Weiss Capped At Temple

Academic honorably mention went with nurses' cap presented to Carol Ruth Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Weiss, RD 1, Stroudsburg at the "capping" ceremony at Temple University Hospital.

The occasion marked the end of the initial six months of pre-clinical training for Carol and 91 classmates in their three-year nursing course.

The traditional Florence Nightingale ceremonies was followed by a talk by Dr. Fred B. Rogers, professor of preventive medicine and epidemiology, on "Reverence for Life."

A tea for the students, their relatives and friends was held at the Nurses' Home following the capping exercises.

Janice Marie Pope

Janice Pope Engaged To R. G. Pittman

Mrs. Ellen Pope of 89 Henry St., East Stroudsburg, announces the engagement of her daughter, Janice Marie, to Ronald G. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tweedie of RD 1 East Stroudsburg.

Miss Pope, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, is employed at Vassar Bag, Inc., Stroudsburg.

Mr. Pittman who attended Stroudsburg High School served four years in the Navy. He is employed at Pocono Shoe Factory, Stroudsburg.

Hadassah Gives for Israel Supplies

"Dollars For Supplies" were presented by members of the local Hadassah at their meeting this week. Mrs. Seymour Ellisweig explained that the funds are used to purchase hospital linens, layettes, uniforms and other materials in Israel for Hadassah installations, and for medical equipment, drugs, teaching materials and other items for its hospitals and schools.

Members not present for the meeting may send their contributions to Mrs. Morris Jacobson, president, or bring it to the next meeting.

Mrs. Jack Weitzman presented an American Affairs report, quoting Sen. Kenneth E. Keating's recent request to Pres. Kennedy to initiate immediate steps to end Arab-Israeli tensions by working out a settlement which would recognize Israel's existence and geographic boundaries and would also offer full assistance in the rehabilitation and settlement of Arab refugees within Arab countries.

A membership pin was presented to Mrs. Leo Feinsilber, membership chairman, who enrolled five new members this year. Mrs. Feinsilber welcomed Mrs. Arlene Jolley as a new member and announced that Mrs. Zelma Silverman had become a life member of Hadassah.

The annual Donor Dinner will be held April 13 at David Duke's with husbands invited. Mrs. David Bernbaum and Mrs. Leon Koster are dinner chairmen.

The Wyckoff Shopper

"the friendly store"
A.B. Wyckoff
STROUDSBURG, PA.

Of all the places I have lived, Schenectady, N.Y., was one of my favorites. I particularly admired the people there, and made friends for whom I become very lonely at times. That's why I was overjoyed to walk into my office of a recent morning and find a contribution of baby clothes packed in boxes from two of Schenectady's leading stores—the Wallace Company and the Imperial. There was a note too, signed Lynne Saxton, saying she was sorry to have missed me as she had looked forward to seeing me.

Now I'm wondering if she is a Schenectadian, and if I knew her there some 10 or 12 years ago. Perhaps I'll go back sometime—but that might be painful too. Things have a way of changing, and even though changes are often for the better, they shatter memories . . . something one doesn't wish to do when the memories are pleasant just as they are.

A few moments ago, I had a visitor—Mrs. Lydia Deibert of Gilbert, who brought a clipping from the Stroudsburg Record written goodness-knows-how-long-ago by Miss Anna M. Wyckoff, and illustrated with her photograph taken at the time she was the first clerk in the Wyckoff store.

Miss Wyckoff recalls the days of her childhood "when we started out to school with long underwear to our high-top shoes, a flannel petticoat and then a quilted one, leggings, mittens, a heavy coat, a cap tied under our chin and, when the thermometer was below zero, a heavy braze veil tied around our faces so that we could face the winter's blast without a shiver." Wryly she sums it up with this penetrating question, "Now, do you wonder the cotton mills have shut down and no one is working overtime but the costume jeweler?"

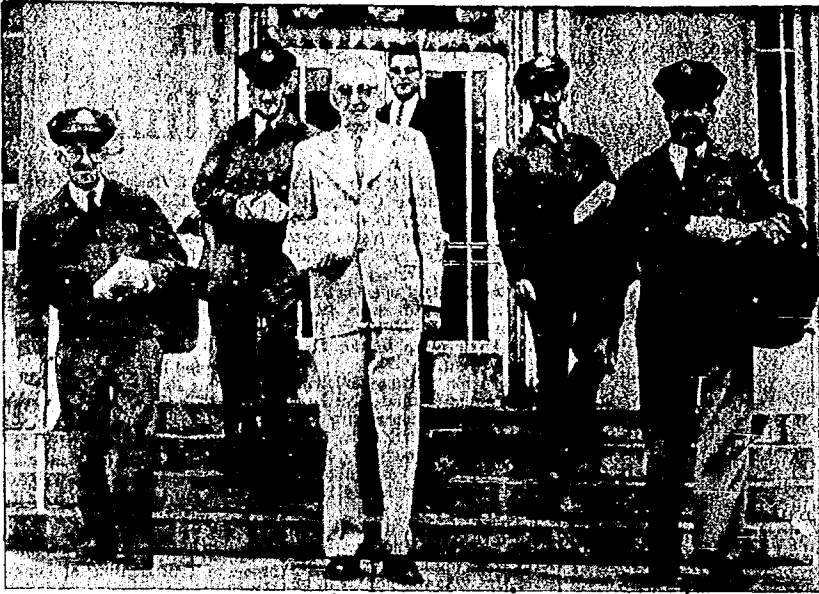

I wonder what Miss Wyckoff would say if she were to see the school girls of today wearing bulky bobby sox all winter and leaving their knees bare?

One of the most-missed of our Wyckoff employees is C. P. Ainspach, better known as Packy, manager of our Beauty Salon. The girls have been doing a valiant job holding down the fort, but the fact remains that there are many clients who feel Packy and Packy only should do their permanents or shape their locks. One of these is Betty Bartholomew, who sent him a get well card picturing herself with a pony tail, and saying it was her new hairdo.

It's a sorry thing to be ill . . . but isn't it wonderful to be missed?

Looking through the store HERE'S WHAT I SEE: Chief Tonka's Indian writing sets for children with Indian-headed pencils and erasers at 25c . . . the new Easter Ideals, beautiful as always, 1.50 . . . a row of adorable miniature grandfather clocks in pastel-colored wooden cabinets, ticking busily away in our jewelry department—just 2.98 each . . . the new Kramer beads, earrings, and bracelets in wonderfully bright shades of blue, rose, and such, finished in a new, rather dull manner that looks like velvet—only 2.00 each piece . . . a brand new shipment of Albert Weiss's Long Stemmed Beauties (jeweled pins) ranging from 2.00 to 15.00, with earrings to match priced from 2.00 to 6.00 . . . Swank tie picks in crown, chessmen, Wedgewood-type horse heads, etc., at 1.50—tiny, pretty, inexpensive . . . a tasty new assortment of miniature Easter eggs in peanut butter, molasses coconut and coconut cream by Gertrude Hawkes, 1.10 a pound; fruit and nut eggs weighing 10 ounces, prettily decorated, and packaged in a hatbox at 1.25 . . . a big yellow bunny from Whitman's with removable hat, pink and white gingham dress, and panties price at 12.00, and other Whitman plush toys packaged in cellophane for 2.00 . . . and Whitman candy-filled basket bags, two styles for juniors, misses, four for "Mom," at 3.69 and 6.50 respectively . . . a complete Easter line by Russell Stover . . . and, in our gift department, English made pitchers reduced from 1.50 to 1.19 and from 2.50 to 1.59.

A TRUNKFUL of GLAMOR is synonymous with A TRUNKFUL of MADAMEISELLES, and today is your last opportunity to meet Mr. Cal Howard, Made-moiselle's representative to our Wyckoff shoe department. Mr. Howard displays the COMPLETE SAMPLE LINE of Mademoiselles, many of which are not regularly in stock. See them and, if you wish, place your orders with him.

AID SEAL DRIVE—Employees of Stroudsburg Post Office this week began distribution of Easter Seals as the annual drive of Monroe County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., got underway. Shown with C. S. Rutt, drive chairman, front center, are Carriers Millard Marsh and Clair Singer, Postmaster Fred Rhodes and Carriers Lloyd Marsh and Forrest Bonser.

Employment Off In Area 245 Workers

REPORTS from 63 major Pocono area companies employing 8,185 workers revealed a decline of 245 workers between Nov. 15, 1960 and Jan. 15, 1961.

The seasonal decline as disclosed in the Labor Market Letter on the area employment situation, said that declines are normal at this season in the Monroe-Pike County area and this year — due to the country-wide recession — might be expected to be heavier than usual.

Total reported employment, however, in the 63 reporting firms during January was only slightly below the comparable figure a year ago. Manufacturing employment showed a decrease of 5 per cent below the 1960 figure.

1.4 Per Cent Dip

Total nonagricultural employment in the reporting firms showed an overall decrease of 1.4 per cent. The manufacturing losses occurred principally in fabricated metal products and in machinery, both electrical and nonelectrical.

Gains in nonmanufacturing plants, which helped to offset manufacturing losses, occurred in service and various governmental agencies. Heavy snows and cold weather during January cut employment in many construction firms.

S-burg Lions Guests Of ESSC

THIRTY-FIVE Stroudsburg Lions Club members as guests of the East Stroudsburg State College, witnessed the final basketball game of the season for the Warriors Tuesday night.

Many members of the club had not previously seen the college since its building program went into effect. Many expressed their delight with the new expansion program.

At a dinner for the visiting group, Dr. Richard Luce of the college welcomed the Lions and extended the greetings of the faculty and student body.

Conscientious Objector Jailed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Daniel M. Wanner, R. D. Stevens, Lancaster County, Pa., Friday was sentenced to three months in jail for failing to appear for induction into the armed forces.

Wanner told U. S. District Judge John W. Lord Jr. his conscience didn't permit him to serve.

"How about service in a hospital?" asked the judge.

"I'm not permitted," replied the 23-year-old Wanner, who said religious views insist he stay home and sign nothing. He balked for a few moments to sign a routine waiver to be permitted to stand before the court without an attorney.

"I can see religious scruples about being a soldier," said the judge, "but not about helping the sick."

Then he sent Wanner to jail.

Pre-School Tests Set In Eastburg

Pocono Pines Promoter Takes 'Fifth' 50 Times

NEW YORK (AP)—The chief promoter of a real estate syndicate that reportedly sold limited partnerships in a corporation pretending to own acreage in Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountain area took the 5th Amendment 50 times Friday while under examination by members of the state attorney general's staff.

The promoter, John L. Remco, who lives at Hotel Marcy, was questioned for an hour and a half under a Supreme Court order in the office of Atty. Gen. Louis J. Jekowicz.

On the ground that it might tend to incriminate him he refused to identify a photograph of his wife, Doris, or to say whether he was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., or if he used any of the money he collected in real estate venture to pay his hotel rent.

Remco was ordered to appear for examination after the attorney general received court permission to question him and others connected with Naomi Realty Associates and Remco Syndications, Inc., both of New York City.

His Charge

Lefkowitz has charged that Remco and Leslie W. Galif, chief partners in Naomi Realty Associates, were involved in the sale and promotion, advertisement and distribution of limited partnerships in Naomi Realty, which resulted in the sale of about $200,000 worth of limited partnerships, at $5,000 each to New York state residents.

The real estate promoters, with their salesmen, the attorney general has said, used a prospectus which was fraudulent.

The prospectus, he said, told investors that Naomi Realty owned more than 2,000 acres of property in the Poconos, where it would develop a plus-country-club type summer colony with exclusive rights on Lake Naomi. The lake allegedly adjoined the property.

The prospectus said the land was bought from Mrs. Irene M. Gross of Pocono Pines. Last Wednesday Mrs. Gross testified at an examination by the attorney general that she had been in negotiations for the sale of the property but did not contract for its sale and never received any money from Remco.

In earlier questioning Remco said he had given Mrs. Gross $800,000 toward the alleged $1,250,000 price. She testified that the price under negotiation was around $300,000.

Remco was subpoenaed at the end of Friday's examination to reappear for questioning March 24.

Ambulance Corps Seek New Members

COOLBAUGH Township Volunteer Fire Company Ambulance Corps has completed plans for its initial campaign to sign up new members for ambulance service and donations from non-members.

At a meeting last night in Tobyhanna, it was decided to change an annual membership fee of three dollars for the first year. Each succeeding year the cost will drop to two dollars. This will defray cost of maintenance to the ambulance and continuous expense of first aid supplies and equipment.

The territory covered by the corps will extend to Tobyhanna, Mt. Pocono, Gouldsboro and Pocono Summit. Transportation will be supplied to those requiring it up to limit of 50 miles.

The services supplied by the Coolbaugh Fire Company is an answer to a long need to the area, especially in the less populated sections of Monroe County.

Employment Off In Area 245 Workers

REPORTS from 63 major Pocono area companies employing 8,185 workers revealed a decline of 245 workers between Nov. 15, 1960 and Jan. 15, 1961.

The seasonal decline as disclosed in the Labor Market Letter on the area employment situation, said that declines are normal at this season in the Monroe-Pike County area and this year — due to the country-wide recession — might be expected to be heavier than usual.

Total reported employment, however, in the 63 reporting firms during January was only slightly below the comparable figure a year ago. Manufacturing employment showed a decrease of 5 per cent below the 1960 figure.

1.4 Per Cent Dip

Total nonagricultural employment in the reporting firms showed an overall decrease of 1.4 per cent. The manufacturing losses occurred principally in fabricated metal products and in machinery, both electrical and nonelectrical.

Gains in nonmanufacturing employment, which helped to offset manufacturing losses, occurred in service and various governmental agencies. Heavy snows and cold weather during January cut employment in many construction firms.

S-burg Lions Guests Of ESSC

THIRTY-FIVE Stroudsburg Lions Club members as guests of the East Stroudsburg State College, witnessed the final basketball game of the season for the Warriors Tuesday night.

Many members of the club had not previously seen the college since its building program went into effect. Many expressed their delight with the new expansion program.

At a dinner for the visiting group, Dr. Richard Luce of the college welcomed the Lions and extended the greetings of the faculty and student body.

Troop 98 Plan Hike

MEMBERS of Boy Scout Troop 98, Brodheadsville, will conduct their annual Spring stalk and track hike for tenderfoot scouts starting at 10 a.m. next Saturday, March 11.

Boys 11 years or older are invited to join the troop now and progress with the current class. A meeting of Scouts with youths from Polk and Ross Townships will be held at Zion Union Church, Brodheadsville, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Conscientious Objector Jailed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Daniel M. Wanner, R. D. Stevens, Lancaster County, Pa., Friday was sentenced to three months in jail for failing to appear for induction into the armed forces.

Wanner told U. S. District Judge John W. Lord Jr. his conscientious didn't permit him to serve.

"How about service in a hospital?" asked the judge.

"I'm not permitted," replied the 23-year-old Wanner, who said religious views insist he stay home and sign nothing. He balked for a few moments to sign a routine waiver to be permitted to stand before the court without an attorney.

"I can see religious scruples about being a soldier," said the judge, "but not about helping the sick."

Then he sent Wanner to jail.

Ambulance Corps Seek New Members

COOLBAUGH Township Volunteer Fire Company Ambulance Corps has completed plans for its initial campaign to sign up new members for ambulance service and donations from non-members.

At a meeting last night in Tobyhanna, it was decided to change an annual membership fee of three dollars for the first year. Each succeeding year the cost will drop to two dollars. This will defray cost of maintenance to the ambulance and continuous expense of first aid supplies and equipment.

The territory covered by the corps will extend to Tobyhanna, Mt. Pocono, Gouldsboro and Pocono Summit. Transportation will be supplied to those requiring it up to limit of 50 miles.

The services supplied by the Coolbaugh Fire Company is an answer to a long need to the area, especially in the less populated sections of Monroe County.

Fullmer's Manager Predicts KO In Championship Fight

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gene Fullmer's manager, whose profit motives may affect his motives as a prophet, predicts for the first time that Fullmer will become the second man in two decades to stop Ray Robinson.

"I think Gene will do it," Marv Jensen said Friday. "If he doesn't, it will be because he will be stopped first by Robinson."

Fullmer defends his NBA world middleweight title against the five-time former champion Saturday night, and the promoters expect a near sellout at the 8,400-seat Las Vegas Convention Center. The gate could be close to $200,000.

"They asked me before some of our other fights with Robinson whether I thought Gene could stop him," Jensen said. "And I asked them how you could say a thing like that about a guy who had only been stopped once in 20 years or so. Even when he was stopped in 1952 by Joey Maxim (who was credited with a 14th-round knock-out), it was the heat in New York as much as the fight."

No Decision

"But this time, I don't think we'll go the distance, one way or the other."

"The last time we fought Robinson (to a 15-round draw in December) I predicted Gene would win by a decision. Gene feels he could have stopped him then if he'd put pressure on all the way, but I wouldn't let him.

"This time Gene will fight his own fight."

At the Robinson camp, meanwhile, Manager George Gainsford was predicting Sugar Ray "probably will end this one the same way he did in Chicago four years ago," when he knocked Fullmer out in the fifth round.

It is not uncommon, however, for Emperor George to predict knockouts — and Robinson has scored 83 of them in 155 fights.

The odds in man-to-man betting here favor Fullmer 8-5, but most of the action is still to come. The consensus is that the price will drop to 7-5 or maybe even 6-5.

Pott, Boros 2nd Short Swinging Sanders' 65 Leads New Orleans Tourney

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Doug Sanders, whose staccato swing makes golf stylists wince, bumped par by 7 strokes with a 65 Friday and took full possession of the second round lead in the $30,000 Greater New Orleans Invitational Tournament.

The 27-year-old Sanders, whose home base is Ojai, Calif., shared the lead with two others the first round. But his 36-hole total of 133 gave him a 3-stroke lead at the end of rain-soaked play.

Johnny Pott of Shreveport, a 25-year-old former college star, was tied with Sanders and Julius Boros the first round but fell off the pace with his second straight 68 and took the runner-up spot.

Brewer Has 65

Gay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., also shot a 65 Friday but trailed the top pair with 72-65-137.

Boros, who celebrated his 41st birthday Friday, was among the late starters. He had to fight intermittent showers and finished with a one-under-par 71 over the soggy, 6,500-yard City Park course, a 139 total.

Tournament favorite Arnold Palmer of Miami — terming the City Park greens the toughest he's ever encountered on the tour — tied with Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., George Bayer of South Pasadena, Calif., South Africa's Gary Player and Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex., at 141.

Tied with Boros was Freddie Haas of New Orleans with rounds of 70-69.

Tournament favorite Arnold Palmer of Miami—who said the greens were the toughest he's ever encountered on the tour—tied at 141 with Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., George Bayer of South Pasadena, Calif., South Africa's Gary Player, Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex., and four others.

The field was trimmed to the low 70 professionals and amateurs after the day's round with 10 more to be eliminated Saturday. The 18-hole finals will be played Sunday.

14 Entered In Derby

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Three-year-olds campaigning in California go on display Saturday in the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby—a major preview of what to expect in the division in 1961.

Florida has contributed at least one leading Derby prospect in Carry Back, so horse lovers can sit back and see what the crop in the West has to offer.

Santa Anita's Derby gained stature in recent years when three winners went on to capture the Kentucky Derby. They were Hill Gail in 1952, Determine in 1954 and Syvans in 1954.

Post time for Saturday's mile and one-eighth fixture is 5:05 P.M. The entry roll remained at 14, with attention focused on Alhertia Ranches' favored pair, Flutbury and Four-and-Twenty.

Laker Coach Looking For New Job

FRED SCHAUS, coach of the Los Angeles Lakers is looking for a new job. But he won't be ready to take the position for several years.

The quitting talk is a bit unusual coming from a rookie National Basketball Assn. coach, whose team is headed for the Western Division playoffs and for the first time in almost a decade is making money.

"It's a young man's game," said Schaus after watching his team all but clinch a playoff spot in the Western Division by beating Syracuse 114-110 at Scranton Thursday, "and I think I'll only stay around a couple more years."

When Schaus left his coaching job at West Virginia University last year he said he was going into the NBA to see if he could coach in the league. Many former college coaches found they weren't the type to coach a pro team.

Spent Five Years As NBA Player

"I played in this league five years," said Schaus, "and I had to see how I would make out as a coach." Schaus was with the Fort Wayne Pistons, who now play out of Detroit.

Schaus admitted most of his offense was free lance, (no set plays) so it was any particular play of type of offense he wanted to try in the league.

It may have been the confidence that Schaus is able to instill in his players that prompted him to try the NBA.

Ray Felix can attest to Schaus' ability to promote confidence. Felix was a mediocre player when he broke into the league several years ago with New York. He lasted a season or two and then was dumped. He finally ended up in the Eastern League with Allentown. He was still an average player.

Toward the end of last season, Felix was called up by the Lakers. He made brief appearances with the Lakers and rarely scored more than two or three players.

And Along Comes Schaus

Then Schaus came along and got the 6-11 Felix to believe that he could make good in the pro game.

Thursday night Felix showed that Schaus' talks had paid off. The big pivot man had 20 points and collected 18 rebounds. The two Syracuse men who alternated in the pivot against Felix, had a total of 18 points and nine rebounds.

"He never played like that in the Eastern League," was one of the typical remarks made by the fans about Felix Thursday. But then he didn't have Schaus as a coach.

Surge Attributed To One Player

In the past month, the Lakers have played .600 ball and Schaus believes the reason for their surge is the play of one man.

He might have named the great Elkin Baylor or Jerry West, the West Virginia rookie and he would have received little argument. But Schaus picked Felix.

What does Schaus plan to do when he leaves the NBA?

"I would like to get a junior high school job," he answered, "teaching and maybe doing some coaching. I like to teach boys how to play the game properly."

A coach at the top wants to go back to the bottom of the ladder. Only in Schaus' case, he feels, the ladder can be turned upside down.

Barrett, Butler Will Play Only 4 Period Contest

BECAUSE someone thought to check the clock at Pleasant Valley High School, Barrett High and Butler Twp. will play only four quarters Monday for the PIAA District 11, Class C basketball championship.

After last Friday's game between Barrett and Pleasant Valley at Brodheadsville dragged on for almost three hours, Pleasant Valley officials decided to call a repairman from the scoreboard company, to run a test on the clock portion of the twin boards.

The time on the boards is kept in electric lights that flash the remaining time in each quarter. The boards are present so that the lights change every second.

Barrett sold out its initial allotment of 400 tickets and had to ask Butler Twp. for some of its tickets.

Barrett received 70 from Butler but those were quickly grabbed up. Another SMT (Seat More Tickets) went out to Butler and 65 more tickets were put in the mail. These will be sold Monday in the Barrett principal's office, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The pregame ticket price is 75 cents. If any tickets are left, they will be sold at the door for $1.25. The Pleasant Valley gym holds 800.

Butler Twp. coach Joe Wolfgang brought his 11-man squad to Pleasant Valley Friday for a two-hour workout. Normally teams are not allowed practice sessions on the playoff site floor. However, Barrett played once at Pleasant Valley this year and in cases such as this, the PIAA allows the other team one workout at the game site.

Shooting Exhibition
The Butler crew put on a brilliant shooting exhibition during the session.

Tom Buscavage, the Wolverines leading scorer and Frank Wolfgang, the coach's son, were the two most impressive shooters. Buscavage hit 10 straight practice jump shots and Wolfgang almost duplicated the feat.

The Wolverines have been tabbed as favorites by the press wire services and will take the court as a five to seven point favorite.

Brumel Defeats Thomas Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia's Valery Brumel made it three-for-three in his high jump battle with John Thomas Friday night when the 20-year-old Boston University junior failed at 7 feet in the Knights of Columbus games before a crowd of 14,255 in Madison Square Garden.

Both Thomas and Brumel passed until the bar was raised to 6'10".

Thomas, with Coach Ed Flanagan at his side, missed twice at 7 feet, then slipped under the bar on his third try. Under A.A.U. rules, if a competitor goes under the crossbar on an attempt, it is counted as a miss.

When Thomas walked slowly back to his chair, Brumel rushed over to him and shook his hand. Thomas, who celebrated his 20th birthday Friday, smiled at his adversary. So now Brumel heads back for Moscow Saturday with a clean slate in his three indoor meetings with Thomas. He won their first duel in the New York

A.C. meet, 7-3 to 7-1. Last week in the National A.A.U. championships, it was 7-2 to 7.

Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary, jumped almost all the way by Ed Moran, won the mile in 4:01.3, just four-tenths of a second off the indoor record.

Rosy, a slim army captain, has been trying for the "impossible" all through the winter season—a sub-four-minute indoor. This time he almost made it.

But where Rosy failed in his record try, George Kerr of Illinois, made it. Kerr, a 23-year-old native of the British West Indies, set an indoor record for the 600-yard run, hitting the tape in 1:09.3, erasing the listed mark of 1:09.5 set in this same race by Mal Whitfield, in 1933, and equaled later by Tom Courtney.

Rozsavolgyi, thus won his sixth mile in seven tries this winter. His time equaled the second best ever indoors. Only Ron Delany's record 4:01.4 is better. In that same race, Rosy clocked 4:01.8.

ESSC 6th In State Wrestling

BLOOMSBURG — East Stroudsburg State College advanced four men to the semifinals of the Pennsylvania State College Conference wrestling championships Friday.

The Warriors' opening day activity earned them five points and a four-way tie for sixth place in the 11-team event.

The team scores following Friday's quarterfinals are: Lock Haven 17, Shippensburg 14, Bloomsburg 12, California, 7, Indiana 6, East Stroudsburg, Edinboro, Millersville and Slippery Rock, 5 and Clarion and Kutztown, 0.

Tom Gleason, Ken Nickischer, Hugh Lawrence and Ron Matkakis were the East Stroudsburg wrestlers, who will appear in today's semi-finals. The finals will be held tonight.

Gleason defeated John Baker of Indiana, 15-9, in the 123 pound class and Nickischer defeated Pat Caslow, of Clarion, 4-3 in the 130 pound bout.

Only Pin Win

Hugh Lawrence scored a verdict over Indiana's Tom Thomas 6-3 and Matkakis pinned Bill Gaseck, Indiana, in 5:45, with a half nelson and inside clutch.

Two Warrior wrestlers were beaten in the opening round matches and three more lost out in quarter final bouts.

East Stroudsburg's Stan Woods dropped a 5-0 decision to Lock Haven's Charles Walker, the pre-tourney favorite in the 137 pound bracket. Bob Tottmeyer, Millersville pinned ESSC's Pat Rick with an arm bar in 5:52 and Bill Clancy of East Stroudsburg lost a 9-0 decision to Tom Ingrand of Lock Haven. These matches were in the quarter-finals.

Williams Beaten

In first round bouts, Mel Williams was beaten 8-0 by Tom Dixon of Bloomsburg, in a 167-pound scrap and Jack Lawhead of Shippensburg defeated Jan Beliveau, ESSC, 5-1 in the heavyweight bracket.

Both Williams and Beliveau will continue to wrestle in the consolation bracket.

Gary Simons, Lock Haven's two-time conference 123-pound champion, who placed fifth in last summer's Olympics, advanced to the semi-finals by pinning Bill Wyland, Bloomsburg, in the second period. If Simons and Gleason win in today's afternoon match, they will meet for the 123-pound title. In a duel meet this season, Simons beat Gleason 17-3.

Over-all Mansfield has a 19-0 record.

Dave Russell led the scorers with 31 points for the winners on nine field goals and 13 of 15 fouls.

Wise Has 28

George Wise topped Indiana scorers with 28 points on 12 field goals and a perfect four-for-four at the foul line.

The lead changed hands 14 times before the undefeated Mountaineers went ahead at 49-47 shortly after halftime. After that Mansfield never fell behind.

The biggest margin between the teams was when the score was 94-78 shortly before the end of the game.

To bring about the playoff, Mansfield won the eastern division of the Conference and Indiana was the winner in the west. In regular season conference play Mansfield has a 12-0 record and Indiana was 10-0.

Not Proud

"We'll deal with the Yankees," the general manager of the A's said. "We're not proud."

"I've talked trades with Baltimore, New York, Cleveland and Chicago," Lane said. "Any time they say, 'yes, I'm ready.'"

When Lane was general manager of the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians, he led an unsuccessful "bust up the Yankees" movement.

Baseball's busiest trader claimed on more than one occasion that Kansas City was "a farm club for New York" because of player swaps involving the two teams.

Fullmer's Manager Predicts KO In Championship Fight

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gene Fullmer's manager, whose profit motives may affect his motives as a prophet, predicts for the first time that Fullmer will become the second man in two decades to stop Ray Robinson.

"I think Gene will do it," Marv Jensen said Friday. "If he doesn't, it will be because he will be stopped first by Robinson."

Fullmer defends his NBA world middleweight title against the five-time former champion Saturday night, and the promoters expect a near sellout at the 8,400-seat Las Vegas Convention Center. The gate could be close to $200,000.

"They asked me before some of our other fights with Robinson whether I thought Gene could stop him," Jensen said. "And I asked them how you could say a thing like that about a guy who had only been stopped once in 20 years or so. Even when he was stopped in 1962 by Joey Maxim (who was credited with a 14th-round knockout), it was the heat in New York as much as the fight."

No Decision
"But this time, I don't think we'll go the distance, one way or the other."

"The last time we fought Robinson (to a 15-round draw in December) I predicted Gene would win by a decision. Gene feels he could have stopped him then if he'd put pressure on all the way, but I wouldn't let him."

"This time Gene will fight his own fight."

At the Robinson camp, meanwhile, Manager George Gainford was predicting Sugar Ray "probably will end this one the same way he did in Chicago four years ago," when he knocked Fullmer out in the fifth round.

It is not uncommon, however, for Emperor George to predict knockouts — and Robinson has scored 83 of them in 153 fights.

The odds in man-to-man betting here favor Fullmer 8-5, but most of the action is still to come. The consensus is that the price will drop to 7-5 or maybe even 6-5.

Pott, Boros 2nd Short Swinging Sanders' 65 Leads New Orleans Tourney

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Doug Sanders, whose scintillating swing makes golf stylists wince, bumped par by 7 strokes with a 65 Friday and took full possession of the second round lead in the $30,000 Greater New Orleans Invitational Tournament.

The 27-year-old Sanders, whose home base is Ojai, Calif., shared the lead with two others the first round. But his 36-hole total of 133 gave him a 3-stroke lead at the end of rain-soaked play.

Johnny Pott of Shreveport, a 25-year-old former college star, was tied with Sanders and Julius Boros

14 Entered In Derby

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Three-year-olds campaigning in California go on display Saturday in the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby — a major preview of what to expect in the division in 1961.

Florida has contributed at least one leading Derby prospect in Carry Back, so horse lovers can sit back and see what the crop in the West has to offer.

Santa Anita's Derby gained stature in recent years when three winners went on to capture the Kentucky Derby. They were Hill Gail in 1952, Determine in 1954 and Swaps in 1954.

Post time for Saturday's mile and one-eighth fixture is 5:05 P.M.

The entry roll remained at 14, with attention focused on Alberta Ranches' favored pair, Flutterby and Four-and-Twenty.

Laker Coach Looking For New Job

FRED SCHAU, coach of the Los Angeles Lakers is looking for a new job. But he won't be ready to take the position for several years.

The quitting talk is a bit unusual coming from a rookie National Basketball Assn. coach, whose team is headed for the Western Division playoffs and for the first time in almost a decade is making money.

"It's a young man's game," said Schaus after watching his team all but clinch a playoff spot in the Western Division by beating Syracuse 114-110 at West Virginia Thursday, "and I think I'll only stay around a couple more years."

When Schaus left his coaching job at West Virginia University last year he said he was going into the NBA to see if he could coach in the league. Many former college coaches found they weren't the type to coach a pro team.

Spent Five Years As NBA Player

"I played in this league five years," said Schaus, "and I had to see how I would make out as a coach." Schaus was with the Fort Wayne Pistons, who now play out of Detroit.

Schaus admitted most of his offense was free lance, (no set plays) so it was any particular play of type of offense he wanted to try in the league.

It may have been the confidence that Schaus is able to instill in his players that prompted him to try the NBA.

Ray Felix can attest to Schaus' ability to promote confidence. Felix was a mediocre player when he broke into the league several years ago with New York. He lasted a season or two and then was dumped. He finally ended up in the Eastern League with Allentown. He was still an average player.

Toward the end of last season, Felix was called up by the Lakers. He made brief appearances with the Lakers and rarely scored more than two or three players.

And Along Comes Schaus

Then Schaus came along and got the 6-11 Felix to believe that he could make good in the pro game.

Thursday night Felix showed that Schaus' talks had paid off. The big pivot man had 20 points and collected 18 rebounds. The two Syracuse men who alternated in the pivot against Felix, had a total of 18 points and nine rebounds.

"He never played like that in the Eastern League," was one of the typical remarks made by the fans about Felix Thursday. But then he didn't have Schaus as a coach.

Surge Attributed To One Player

In the past month, the Lakers have played .600 ball and Schaus believes the reason for their surge is the play of one man. He might have named the great Elkin Baylor or Jerry West, the West Virginia rookie and he would have received little argument. But Schaus picked Felix.

What does Schaus plan to do when he leaves the NBA? "I would like to get a junior high school job," he answered, "teaching and maybe doing some coaching. I like to teach boys how to play the game properly."

A coach at the top wants to go back to the bottom of the ladder. Only in Schaus' case, he feels, the ladder can be turned upside down.

Slow Clock Is Fixed

Barrett, Butler Will Play Only 4 Period Contest

BECAUSE someone thought to check the clock at Pleasant Valley High School, Barrett High and Butler Twp. will play only four quarters Monday for the PIAA District 11, Class C basketball championship.

After last Friday's game between Barrett and Pleasant Valley at Brodheadsville dragged on for almost three hours, Pleasant Valley officials decided to call a repairman from the score-board company, to run a test on the clock portion of the twin boards.

The time on the boards is kept in electric lights that flash the remaining time in each quarter. The boards are present so that the lights change every second.

Missed Beat
But Pleasant Valley's boards

3 Month Bowling Event Opens In Detroit Hall

DETROIT (AP)—More than 30,000 bowlers start matching strikes and spares Saturday in sports' biggest participation event — the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Before the mammoth event ends May 21, 6,136 teams from 47 states, District of Columbia, Canada and Puerto Rico will have taken their turn on the 40 lanes built in Cobo Hall, Detroit's new $54-million exhibition center.

The lure of $462,032.50 in prize money and thrill of competing against the world's best bowlers attracted contestants from as far away as Alaska and Hawaii.

No Hawaiian Team
On April 30 the 49ers team of missed the every second beat. In fact, it took the clocks a minute and 15 seconds to tick off one minute. So that by the end of four eight minute quarters, the clocks, which are controlled by the same mechanism, were eight full minutes or an additional quarter behind. The score keeping sections of the boards were not affected.

The repairman discovered that one of the electric coils had burned out, throwing both boards' timing off. It appears doubtful that a replacement part can be obtained before Monday's game.

However, one of the clocks will be able to operate and with the aid of two stop watches, was reset Friday.

Pleasant Valley officials are not sure how long the clock has been behind the times but doubt that it was out of order for more than one or two games.

Ticket Problem
The clock problem is solved but tickets may be next on the trouble-some list.

Anchorage, Alaska, will roll as the 49th state's only representative in the five-man event. Hawaii will not have a team in the Motor City, but will be represented in the doubles and singles competition by four bowlers from Honolulu.

This year's ABC — fifth to be conducted in Detroit — will see the debut of the new classic division for teams comprised of professional and highly skilled bowlers.

The classic division, first change in the ABC format since 1937, drew 80 of the country's leading teams. Each of the star-studded teams will roll six games on successive nights instead of three on a single night as in the 57 previous tournaments, beginning March 8.

ESSC 6th In State Wrestling

BLOOMSBURG — East Stroudsburg State College advanced four men to the semifinals of the Pennsylvania State College Conference wrestling championships Friday.

The Warriors' opening day activity earned them five points and a four-way tie for sixth place in the 11-team event.

The team scores following Friday's quarterfinals are: Lock Haven 17, Shippensburg 14, Bloomsburg 12, California, 7, Indiana 6, East Stroudsburg, Edinboro, Millersville and Slippery Rock, 5 and Clarion and Kutztown, 0.

Tom Gleason, Ken Nickischer, Hugh Lawrence and Ron Matikatis were the East Stroudsburg wrestlers, who will appear in today's semi-finals. The finals will be held tonight.

Gleason decided John Baker of Indiana, 15-9 in the 123 pound class and Nickischer de-cisioned Pat Caslow, of Clarion, 4-3 in the 130 pound bout.

Only Pin Win

Hugh Lawrence scored a victory over Indiana's Tom Thomas 6-3 and Matikatis pinned Bill Gasdeck, Indiana, in 5:45, with a half nelson and inside croch.

Two Warrior wrestlers were beaten in the opening round matches and three more lost out in quarter final bouts.

East Stroudsburg's Stan Woods dropped a 5-0 decision to Lock Haven's Charles Walizer, the pre-tourney favorite in the 137 pound bracket. Bob Tottmeyer, Millersville pinned ESSC's Pat Rick with an arm bar in 5:52 and Bill Clancy of East Stroudsburg lost a 9-0 decision to Tom Ingrund of Lock Haven. These matches were in the quarter-finals.

Williams Beaten

In first round bouts, Mel Williams was beaten 8-0 by Tom Dixon of Bloomsburg, in a 167-pound scrap and Jack Lawhead of Shippensburg decisioned Jan Bellevue, ESSC, 5-1 in the heavyweight bracket.

Both Williams and Bellevue will continue to wrestle in the consolation bracket.

Gary Simons, Lock Haven's two-line conference 123-pound champion, who placed fifth in last summer's Olympics, advanced to the semi-finals by pinning Bill Wyland, Bloomsburg, in the second period. If Simons and Gleason win in today's afternoon match, they will meet for the 123-pound title. In a duel meet this season, Simons beat Gleason 17-3.

Mansfield Wins PSCC Hoop Crown

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A 53-point second half enabled Mansfield State College to defeat Indiana State College 97-87 Friday night for the Pennsylvania State College Basketball championship.

On the short side of a 45-44 score at halftime, Mansfield roared back in the last 20 minutes and dominated the game.

Over-all Mansfield has a 19-0 record.

Dave Russell led the scorers with 31 points for the winners on nine field goals and 13 of 15 fouls.

Wise Has 28
George Wise topped Indiana scorers with 28 points on 12 field goals and a perfect four-for-four at the foul line.

The lead changed hands 14 times before the undefeated Mountaineers went ahead at 49-47 shortly after halftime. After that Mansfield never fell behind.

The biggest margin between the teams was when the score was 94-78 shortly before the end of the game.

To bring about the playoff, Mansfield won the eastern division of the Conference and Indiana was the winner in the west. In regular season conference play Mansfield has a 12-0 record and Indiana was 10-0.

DVL Team Book Tilts

TWIN CITY plays host to Banko's of Bethlehem tonight in the Delaware Valley Bowling League at Harmon's Recreation Center. The matches get underway at 8 p.m.

Twin City keggers are Pete Casella, Steve Balick, Dick Lessig, Walt Keiper, and Okay Stuckey. In other league play, Crowe's bowlers will travel to Bethlehem for a game with Major Vending Co.

Tom Somers, Jake Nittel, Dick Andrews, Russ Bergman, and Ted Hoffman will bowl for Crowe's.

Trade Or Else Says Frank Lane

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Frank Lane, the trader, sounded a warning Friday for management at Chicago, Baltimore and Cleveland. If those clubs won't deal with his Kansas City A's, Lane will trade with the New York Yankees.

"I'm serving notice on (Bill) Veck, (Paul) Richards (Baltimore manager) and those Cleveland fellows," Lane told columnist Ralph Warner of The Tampa Tribune.

Not Proud
"We'll deal with the Yankees," the general manager of the A's said. "We're not proud."

"I've talked trades with Baltimore, New York, Cleveland and Chicago," Lane said. "Any time they say, 'yes,' I'm ready."

When Lane was general manager of the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians, he led an unsuccessful "bust up the Yankees" movement.

Baseball's busiest trader claimed on more than one occasion that Kansas City was "a farm club for New York" because of player swaps involving the two teams.

TV WEEK

Sunday, Mar. 5 thru Saturday, Mar. 11

Weekend Video Highlights

Donald May, as Pat Garrison, and Ray Danton, as Harry Shayne, team up in a scheme to palm off a hash-slinger as a former silent movie siren when they convert waitress Helen Collins (Grace Gaynor) into a femme fatale from Turkey on "The Roaring 20's" at 7:30 tonight on ch. 6 and 7. . . Raymond Burr, as "Perry Mason," is asked for advice on how to resolve the disputed ownership of a cure for a fish disease on the series at 7:30 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10.

Candy Moore is featured with Tony Dow, Jerry Mathers, Hugh Beaumont and Barbara Billingsley on "Leave It To Beaver" at 8:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7 as the housekeeper's daughter, who is the cause of Wally's sudden and startling interest in helping with the housework. . . Barry Sullivan and Clu Gulagher portray Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid, who expose a plot by two men to force a companion to masquerade as Lonnie, long-lost son of wealthy Sam Masters, on "Tall Man" at 8:30 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4.

Richard Boone stars on "Have Gun, Will Travel" at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10, who helps Sheriff Ernie Backwater retain custody of two teen-age condemned boys who face death by lynching. . . Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Senator Barry M. Goldwater will debate the question, "Are the Administration's Economic Proposals Sound?" in "The Nation's Future" series at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4.

Suzanne Lloyd portrays a young school teacher who vows vengeance when her father is killed by two strangers on "Gunsmoke" at 10 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10, starring James Arness, Dennis Weaver, Milburn Stone and Amanda Blake. . . Lloyd Bridges stars on "Sea Hunt" at 10:30 p.m. on ch. 2, when foreign frogmen use an underwater cave as a spy station to impede United States missile development.

SPORTS

Turning Of Tide' April 2 Title For Valiant Years

"Turning of the Tide"—the Allies resume control of the seas, take the offensive in the air and break through in Italy — is Chapter 16 of "Winston Churchill — The Valiant Years" Sunday, April 2 (ABC-TV, 10:30-11 p.m.)

Richard Barton speaks Churchill's words and Gary Merrill is the narrator of the series based on Churchill's memoirs of World War II.

Through measures agreed upon by Roosevelt and Churchill at Casablanca, the U-boat menace is brought under control and the vital seaways are open. Success at sea has been achieved by supremacy in the air.

RAF night raids against strategic German installations are now augmented into round-the-clock bombings with the addition of American elements. In Italy, the stalemate at Anzio is broken, the siege at Monte Cassino is ended. The American 5th and the British 8th Armies start their march on Rome.

Appearing in "Turning of the Tide" (in sequences filmed especially for the series) will be Sir Robert Sandby, Deputy Air Marshal, organizer of the bombing of Germany, and RAF Group Capt. Leonard Chesire, recipient of the Victoria Cross.

The musical score was composed by Richard Rodgers and conducted by Robert Emmett Dolan. Script was written by Beirne Lay, Jr.

Ross School Audit Completed

Fourth in a Series of Five

HARRISBURG — The audit of Ross Township for the school year of 1958-59 has been completed and copies were sent to Gov. David Lawrence and the school board. Expenditures from the General Fund for the school year ending July 6, 1958 aggregated $47,857.59 and reimbursements and subsidies received during the school year ending July 5, 1959, totaled $30,482.08.

The audit revealed that in a review of the cash expenditures that the school district disbursed monies to a member of the school board for services rendered as a census enumerator. The auditor pointed out that employment of a board member in any capacity by the school district in which he or she is elected or appointed or receipt from such school district of any pay for any service rendered to the district, except as provided by the School Code, is in direct violation of the School Code and that such practice shall be discontinued immediately.

neither bond nor collateral in lieu of bond to secure monies on deposit by the district. The auditors recommended that the board insist the bank comply with this matter as required in the School Code.

Upon examination of cash receipts and expenditures it was revealed that the depository does not render monthly statements as required by the School Code. They recommended that the school board request the bank to furnish these statements and the books of account be reconciled monthly to the bank balance.

The auditors disclosed that a temporary indebtedness remained unpaid at the close of the fiscal year and was not included in the following year's budget. The recommendation of the auditors was that such an indebtedness is an obligation in the ensuing budget and that the board should comply with the School Code in the matter.

Recommendations

It was also disclosed that entries are transcribed in cash journals in non-payment form and date references are complete. The auditors recommended that the books of account be written in permanent form and that corrections struck out be explained and initialed.

The nine points recommended by the auditors as being correct or improved usage are: 1. Coding of invoices for expense distribution. 2. Coding of checks by account classification as required by the School Code. 3. Responsible and accurate classification in posting of the cash journal entries.

4. Handling of fiscal year-end transactions so that monies received and paid can be recorded in the period in which the transaction actually occurred. 5. Obtaining of authenticated duplicate deposit slips in order that the composition of deposits can be traced to bank statement.

6. Retention of worksheets reflecting bank reconciliation.

7. Retention of voided checks in numerical sequence and their mutilation to prevent use.

8. Inclusion in the minutes of the monthly report of the treasurer to the secretary of funds received and disbursed by him as required by the School Code.

9. Notation in the minutes of information denoting that public notice of the proposed budget has been carried out as required by the School Code.

A spokesman for the school board said last night that all recommendations of the auditors have been complied with.

War Criminal Receives Favors

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Rudolf Hess, Hitler's former deputy, gets special treatment from the Russians in Spandau war crimes prison, the newspaper Wiesbadener Kurier said Wednesday.

It said Hess is allowed to leave his cell for as long as 24 hours at a time to travel to Karlsruhe, an East Berlin suburb where Soviet headquarters in East Germany are located.

An Allied official connected with the Berlin prison termed the story fantastic.

Hess is serving a life term for war crimes.

Eight Deeds Are Filed

EIGHT DEEDS were filed yesterday in the office of Mrs. Jeanette F. Batory, Monroe County register and recorder:

Judge Rules Man The Same

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—A judge ruled Friday that Roy N. Davis, 44, was the same person being sought by Pennsylvania police on a charge of felonious assault allegedly committed in Reading, Pa., 14 years ago.

Judge John J. Walsh of Oneida County Court dismissed Davis' bid for a writ of habeas corpus and reserved decision on a defense motion to appeal Walsh's ruling to the Appellate Division of state Supreme Court.

Walsh said the law was vague whether the defense may appeal a ruling in this type case. He requested Dist. Atty. Arthur Darri-grand and Davis' attorney, Howard Seld, to attempt to determine the point.

Walsh said Davis had failed to establish beyond a reasonable doubt that he was not the man wanted by state police in Pennsylvania. They have a warrant for Davis outstanding since 1946, when he allegedly struck a man over the head with a beer bottle during a wedding reception.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your week is, according to the stars, for

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1961

MARCH 20 to April 20 (Aries)—

Sensibly control strong emotions and have a productive, progressive day with good fun and a happy diversion thrown in. There is activity and great hope in the air! That's good.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—

Steady and favorable Venus rays now. This can be a helpful, fortunate period for artistic professions, delicate work, literary interests, aiding children's progress and all time doings.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—

Ideal Mercury and other influences prevail now. Prominent are writing, study, experimenting in sciences, physical, all matters requiring mental keenness and knowledge. Improve a hobby.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—

A delicate day (all things being normal). Take a big part in whatever concerns your family, church, personal interests. Our responsibilities have increased but so have our blessings.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—

Mild indications but going to strong, good ones after Sunday and lasting all tomorrow. Make it a happy, fruitful time. You can intermix necessary work with pleasure and other interests.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—

You have a most helpful, fortunate period for artistic professions, delicate work, literary interests, aiding children's progress and all time doings.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—

You have valuable advantages now. You head them and promote brighter, more pleasant days for your family, worthy friends. Necessary work or tedious chores can be managed calmly, amiably.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—

Hold tight to calmness, peace and good cheer and you will have more abundant returns from your efforts. Do not lose temper or fall to strife. It will aid in all ways.

November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—

Mixed vibrations with generosity and true charity most honored among the many interests encountered. Be attentive to personal needs and urgent matters but also make time for rest.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—

Rather friendly rays still linger since yesterday's fine Saturn aspect. May be some rest and ease in some endeavors but be watchful and you won't go overboard. Enjoy some relaxation.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—

Similar indications and aspects to Capricorn today. Hood ade to them. Use yourself forward if you have need for a speed-up but don't rush one minute, then slow down too much later.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—

Bright and benefic day for you. Your special interests and matters concerning your occupation and domestic efforts are honored. Keep in the midst of things and enjoy a share of all good.

TODAY: Possess many fine attributes that make for success and happiness if developed and handled right each day. You are kind, fair, agreeable, always willing to do your share and are not envious. You are undertaking that will aid good causes, underprivileged people. You have unusual talents for writing, designing artistic things, building and many various occupations. You are not very boastful but are inclined to underestimate your splendid talents. We should recognize and promote our gifts from God; use them daily to improve your status, while waiting for the day when you will shine brightly in U. S. Revolutionary War. Sir Henry Raeburn, Scotch portrait painter.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day it is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6, add 6, count the number in the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Soviet Loses 'Venus' Contact

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union said yesterday it has lost radio contact with its Venus rocket. The news agency reported Soviet scientists were unable to establish radio contact with the automatic interplanetary station just Monday—15 days after the rocket was launched from an orbiting space vehicle.

"As long as the station remains in the zone of direct visibility from the territory of the Soviet Union, efforts will be made to establish radio contact with the automatic interplanetary station," Tass said.

It said the rocket is continuing its space flight on schedule and will be 6,633,000 kilometers—1,177,250 miles—from earth Friday. It is scheduled to reach within 52,500 miles of Venus May 19-20.

ELWOOD CRAMER, 38, of Stroudsburg RD 5, was arrested yesterday by Parole Officer

Henry McCool and confined to the Monroe County Jail. Cramer is charged with a parole violation.

Experts To Discuss Education

THREE FACETS of the current educational scene will be discussed by three experts on Horizons, radio station WVPO's Sunday-at-3 program.

Rep. Jeanette Reibman of Northampton County, who is serving her third year as chairman of the Pennsylvania House Committee on Education, will present the overall political aspect of educational problems in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Leroy J. Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State College, will contribute facts on higher education in Pennsylvania, while Dr. Kurt Wimer, professor of social studies at the local college, will concentrate on the present federal programs in education.

For Sunday's program the usual pattern of Horizons will be altered. Instead of the regular two one-half hour programs, with student participation in the second portion, the panel of three experts will be given the entire hour for their presentation.

The silver eel is simply a common green eel grown old. When they are six to eight years old, eels stop feeding and change to a silvery color for their long trip out into the ocean where they spawn and die.

Business Column

New Taxi Business In Coolbaugh

STANLEY J. Mroczkowski, a resident of Coolbaugh Township, will start on March 6 a new taxi cab business serving the Township of Coolbaugh in which is situated Tobyhanna Village, part of Pocono Summit, the United States Signal Corps Depot and the new Airport.

The new business is known as Tobyhanna Taxi and the main office will be located in the Village of Tobyhanna.

Mroczkowski was granted a Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission Certificate to furnish taxi cab service for the Township of Coolbaugh on Feb. 23.

Mroczkowski previously was associated with Ken Miller in the service station business known as Ken & Stan's and located in the Borough of Mount Pocono.

Rockefeller Appointed

P. A. ROCKEFELLER, executive vice president and secretary of East Stroudsburg Savings, Building and Loan Association of East Stroudsburg, has been appointed to the 1961 Trends and Economic Policies Committee of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment was announced by C. Elwood Knapp, of Pittsburgh, president of the League, which is the nationwide trade organization of the savings and loan business and represents more than 4,700 savings associations and co-operative banks.

The committee was created to study the broad economic and competitive factors affecting savings and loan associations and co-operative banks, and makes recommendations on association and league policy in the light of such study.

Mount Pocono

A GROUP of friends surprised Mrs. Herbert Sharbaugh on her birthday by calling at her home to spend the afternoon, with her. While celebrating and enjoying refreshments they decided to cut out aprons for the Methodist church bazaar, to be held during the summer.

Those who attended were: Mrs. Paul Derr, Mrs. Henry Cruse, Mrs. Richard Lee, Mrs. Bruno Parth, Mrs. Selden Ponder, Mrs. Lloyd Learn, Mrs. James Mori, Mrs. Wm. Wright, Mrs. Gertrude McCarthy, Mrs. Carroll Amos and Mrs. Earl Brock.

Richard Parth and Mrs. Julia Parth spent several days visiting relatives in New York.

Kresgeville

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andrews and Mrs. Irene Feller called on Mrs. Alberts Herman, Jim Thorpe, who is on the sick list at her home. Mrs. Herman is the former Sarah George of this place.

'Segregation' Ends In Chess

NEWFOUNDLAND — "Segregation" has ended in the Chess and Checkers Clubs at Southern Wayne Joint School, and the boys' club has joined the girls' unit in one organization.

Officers elected by the joint group include the following: Beverly Matthews, president; Judy Wreski, vice president; Susan Akers, secretary; Donna Henwood, treasurer; Anna May Randall, student council representative.

There are 28 members in the club. Play is regulated by the student's academic standing.

The club would welcome challenges from other school clubs or from individual players. Arrangements are under way for a match with the Wallenpaupack Club.

Adolph Caprioli is advisor of the local unit, which is in its second year at Southern Wayne.

The annual budget of Tobyhanna Township Supervisors is now available for inspection at home of secretary until March 20th, 1961 after which date it may be adopted.
